Police Remove Body of Miss Helen Power from Saugus Overnight Cabin

Cabin Victim—An autopsy was being performed today in the mystery deaths, in a Saugus cabin, of Miss Helen Power (above) of Charlestown and James T. McGuinness, Navy Yard worker . . . while Boston police, probing the murder of Mrs. Alice D. Sheridan, Charlestown friend of Miss Power, sought to uncover any link between the two tragedies.

Report Hitler Ousts Goering

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—A shakeup of top men of the German air force has been precipitated by the series of heavy assaults on Berlin in which at least 324 Nazi planes have been destroyed, Swedish press dispatches said today.

The Swedish dispatch, published in the London Daily Mail and quoting neutral sources, said that under a reorganization of Hitler's air command now in progress Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering would take a back seat and younger men with more specialized knowledge of fighter defense would come to power.

Goering was described as "utterly bewildered by the strength of the Allied aerial blows."

No accurate assessment of the new punishment inflicted upon scarred Berlin by the Americans has yet become available, but a Stockholm dispatch quoted a traveler as declaring "it has ceased to be a capital or even a town." The Cairo radio, quoting another Swedish report, said the city had been without electricity, gas and water all this week.

The ever-increasing might of American air power was reflected in a U. S. Army headquarters announcement last night that the British-based Eighth Air Force and Italian-based 15th Air Force dropped 24,000 tons of bombs on Germany in February, aircraft factories being the chief targets.

Escorting fighters knocked down 905 enemy planes during the month, the announcement said.

This Allied domination of the air over Germany has brought the "serious suggestion," the London Daily Mail said today, that American bombers striking into the Reich radio German civilians to flee.

RAF Again Rips Aircraft Shops

By GLADWIN HILL

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Britain's four-engined Lancasters, striking again at Germany's aircraft production, reached far into southern France last night and bombed the large factory at Marignane near Marseille, the air ministry announced today.

The RAF strike kept Allied aerial blows going around the clock following yesterday's bombing of Berlin through dense clouds by the American 8th Air Force.

The air ministry communique telling of the night operation said the large aircraft factory at Marignane was attacked in bright moonlight and first reports indicated the bombing as accurate and concentrated.

At the same time Mosquitos, giving western Germany no ease, struck objectives in that area.

The air ministry said none of its planes was missing.

The Lancaster raid was the RAF's third night precision attack on German aircraft factories in France in a month.

YANKS RIP HANNOVER

On Feb. 8 a similar force using the new six-ton "factory-buster" bomb, hit the Gnome-Rhone airplane engine factory at Limoges, and on March 2 smashed at plants near Paris and Albert in northern France.

A U. S. communique last night said yesterday's blow against the Reich capital and a co-ordinated raid on unspecified objectives in central Germany—identified by the Berlin radio as Hannover—cost seven heavy bombers and one fighter, figures that contrasted sharply with 68 bombers and 11 fighters lost Monday.

Nazis Fear Yanks Using New Bombing Weapon

STOCKHOLM, March 10 (AP)—Germans are convinced that American bombers "must have some new weapon" making possible such pinpoint accuracy as the awful destruction of the ball-bearing works and tank plants in Erkener, southern suburb of Berlin, a Swede arriving today from the ravaged capital said.

The Erkener works were a target of the American day raiders Wednesday. German dispatches said the bombers had penetrated to the very heart of the city yesterday, taking advantage of thick clouds.

"There must have been more than 500 incendiaries landed on that factory," the eyewitness said of the ball-bearing works. "The whole place was covered and five or six blocks were blasted or gutted by fire. Berliners simply are astonished that such a small place could be hit so accurately."

The Swede said he counted 120 big fires and that the whole district was in ruins. Skies above Berlin were an eerie red from fires.

In another precision bombing Wednesday, the Swede said, a submarine parts plant at Wildau also was smashed. He said Propaganda Minister Goebbels, also gauleiter of Berlin, had called a meeting of all district leaders, high ranking party men, police and storm troop leaders to plan total evacuation of Berlin within the next few days, should the daylight raids continue.

Ramirez Quits In Argentina

BUENOS AIRES, March 10 (AP)—Pedro Pablo Ramirez formally resigned the presidency of Argentina today.

Ramirez, whose administration broke relations with the Axis only to confront a palace coup in which Edelmiro J. Farrell became acting president under an announced delegation of powers from Ramirez, sent a notification of his resignation to the supreme court.

The court, at a hastily convoked session, merely acknowledged receipt of the notification and a manifesto Ramirez addressed to the nation.

Neither doctument was made public immediately.

Meanwhile, Farrell and his ministers were discussing the situation in a special cabinet meeting.

R. I. Flier Killed

HARVARD, Neb., March 10 (INS)—Officials at the Harvard airfield today announced death of seven crew members of a bomber which crashed after a mid-air collision. The victims included Sergt. James H. Bulha, 20, father, Joseph S. Bulha, of Newport, R. I.

British to Act On Coal Strike

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—The British war cabinet let it be known today that firm action will be taken to halt the coal strike which has virtually paralyzed the rich South Wales minefields, unless the 90,000 miners now idle return to the pits.

There was no official indication what the action would be, but labor leaders said the government was prepared to take over the mines as it did during the general strike of 1926.

STORMS SLOW FIGHTING IN ITALY

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 10 (AP)—Activity on all battle fronts in Italy dwindled to minor patrol operations yesterday in the face of severe weather, Allied headquarters announced today.

Allied aircraft managed to get into the air, however, for 900 sorties. Medium bombers again attacked shipping and other targets at Santo Stefano and Montalto di Castro, northwest of Rome.

Light bombers hit enemy gun positions at Campoleone back of the Anzio beachhead and the railway at Capranica.

Approximately 30 enemy aircraft were sighted over the battle area during the day, the annnouncement said. Two Allied planes are missing.

Headquarters announced that the total of Germans captured on all fronts in Italy since the Salerno landings last September has now passed 15,000. Three thousand of these were taken on the beachhead and 1500 in and around Cassino.

Skirmishes occurred between patrols at various points yesterday on the beachhead, one of them in the ravines of the Moletta river southwest of Carroceto. In another area British soldiers shot down an enemy fighter plane with small arms fire.

New Jap Activity Reported in China

CHUNGKING, March 10 (AP)—New Japanese activity in China which might lead to attempts to close gaps in the Canton-Hankow and Peiping-Hankow railways were reported today by a Chinese army spokesman.

He also said Chinese forces in northern Burma had advanced four miles southward from captured Maingkwan.

Nazis Quit Strong Base In Ukraine

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—The German radio announced today that Nazi troops had abandoned Uman, one of their strong bases in the western Ukraine.

Uman, a rail head, lies about midway between Vinnitsa and Kirovograd and about 25 miles east of the Bug river. It is at the hinge between the Russian drive into old Poland on the west.

The entire southern Ukrainian front blazed with a great Russian offensive which Moscow said has resulted in the capture of Staro-Konstantinov, storming of the inner defenses of Tarnopol and the breaching of the German lines guarding the Black sea ports of Nikolaev and Kherson.

Most spectacular of the day's development was the disclosure by Premier Stalin of a new Russian drive launched by Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky southwest of Krivoi Rog.

Eight thousand Germans were killed and 100 captured in this advance, the Russian communique asserted. Nazi forces were driven back from 19 to 37 miles, abandoning huge stocks of war material. More than 200 localities were liberated, the bulletin added.

Besides menacing the ports of Nikolaev and Kherson, Malinovsky's advance was a direct threat to the several hundred thousand Nazi troops still in the lower Ukraine and along the coast of the Black sea toward Odessa.

Capture of Staro-Konstantinov, 26 miles north of Proskurov, by Marshal Zhukov's First Ukrainian Army netted large stocks of war material, Moscow said.

Zhukov's right wing made short work of the Tarnopol defenses, Russian advices indicated. Red army infantry, buttressed by tank units, "burst into the town and engaged the enemy in street fighting," the Moscow bulletin said.

Jap Power on Admiraltys Fades

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

Japanese resistance in Los Negros island in the Bismarck sea has reached such a low ebb American warships and supply vessels steamed boldly into the island's big anchorage without opposition, Southwest Allied headquarters reported today.

Dismounted First Cavalry division troops which invaded Los Negros Feb. 29 and captured 5000-foot Momote airfield have driven Japan's first-rank marines onto the extreme north portion of the island.

On New Britain, American Marines have expanded their invasion beachhead established Monday on Willaumez peninsula and are last reported within two miles of the Japanese base at Talasea, where there is an emergency landing strip.

RABAUL BLASTED

Rabaul, New Britain, 170 airline miles from the Talasea fighting, was attacked four times Tuesday and a headquarters spokesman said photographs show there's not one undamaged ship remaining in the harbor.

Other Allied planes hit airdromes at Wewak, New Guinea, with 56 tons of bombs and knocked down 17 of 40 intercepting enemy planes. Kavieng, New Ireland, took a 65-ton pasting.

From New Delhi, India, Associated Press War Correspondent Preston Grover reported American and Chinese troops under Lieut.-Gen. Stilwell have driven 100 miles into northern Burma so fast and decisively that Japan's war lords face an immediate decision:

To rush in strong reinforcements to attempt a large-scale counteroffensive, or to permit Stilwell's forces to accomplish their objective — clear northern Burma for a new link in the supply route to China.

JAPS RAID ENIWETOK

Stilwell, directing operations from the field, has advanced much faster than Southeast Asia headquarters thought possible, Grover said.

In the Central Pacific Japanese planes raided American-held Eniwetok atoll in the western Marshalls Wednesday for the first time since the strategic base was invaded and conquered Feb. 17. "Small damage" resulted, headquarters said.

American Army and Navy planes dropped 35 tons of bombs on five Japanese bases in the eastern Marshalls Tuesday.

Link 3 Deaths In Slaying Quiz

Endeavoring to link the mysterious deaths of a Charlestown couple in Saugus wth the brutal Charlestown slaying of Mrs. Alice Degnan Sheridan, police today brought from Saugus a bloodstained knife and a pair of rubbers found in the Saugus overnight cabin.

Police Capt. Louis Di Sessa of Charlestown station said that when the body of Mrs. Sheridan was found yesterday, wedged in a fence in the rear of an Edgeworth st., Charlestown, tenement house, she had what appeared to be a deep knife gash in her chin. 8

Prints believed to have been made by a distinctive type of rubbers were also found in frozen mud of the Charlestown back yard, Capt. Di Sessa stated.

The jacknife and rubbers both belonged, according to the police official, to James T. McGuinness, Boston Navy Yard shipwright, who was found dead in the Saugus tourist cabin with Miss Helen Power, 39, both declared to have been friends of the Sheridan woman.

Rubbers and knife were sent today to Boston police chemist Frank Stratton for examination.

PAIR DIED OF SUFFOCAITION

At the same time an autopsy on the bodies of the Saugus victims revealed they apparently died from suffocation by steam.

The two-hour double autopsy was performed by Dr. Alan R. Morit, state police pathologist, and Medical Examiner Laurence J. Cusick of Nahant, and afterwards Dr. Cusick reported a partial finding in which he said:

"Death was caused partially by suffocation by steam. The complete cause of death is contingent upo nan anlysis of liquor taken frfom the cabin."

This consisted of two full bottles of ale, one liquor bottle containing but a "heel" of fluid, and a second bottle which had in it a yellowish-white liquor which officials declined to identify pending the chemical analysis.

These articles, as well as the vital organs of the man and woman were brought to Boston by Dr. Moritz following the autopsy and turned over to Lieut. Joseph Walker, state police chemist.

Meanwhile State Police Lieut. Raymond Foley and Dist.-Atty. Hugh A. Cregg of Essex County entered the investigation of the Saugus deaths. They called at Saugus police station for a report on the case.

Until this morning, only the strange coincidence that the two dead women had been friends, had lived together for two weeks recently, and had both known McGuinness, linked the unusual cases.

But an official theory that all three deaths are somehow related was seen in the decision of Medical Examiner William J. Brickley of Suffolk County, shortly after he declared the Sheridan woman a victim of murder, to take active part in investigation of the Saugus victims.

Capt. DiSessa added the significant hint that "if certain fingerprints are found" in the

U. S. ASKS EIRE TO CLOSE NAZI, JAP LEGATIONS

BELFAST, Northern Ireland, March 10 (AP)—The United States has asked neutral Eire to close the German legation and the Japanese consulate as an anti-espionage meaures to protect Allied troop movements in Northern Ireland.

Although a note presented late in February by David Gray, U. S. minister to Eire, contained no ultimatum and no demand for southern Ireland bases, rumors arose such demands had been made. A "stand to" by Eire's army was ordered along the Ulster border from Feb. 25 to Feb. 28.

The British government approved the American note, but the United States is handling the job of trying to plug this information outlet to the Axis which has been a source of worry to Washington and London for years.

News of the development reached Belfast this week, but transmission was banned by British censorship until today.

One account said that following a conference with Gray at which the note was presented, Prime Minister De Valera immediately had the Irish minister at Washington, Robert Brennan, contact President Roosevelt.

The President was reported to have assured Brennan there was no question of force and that the note simply was a request as a matter of urgency that something be done against the activities of Axis establishments in Eire.

Denies 'Smear' Of MacArthur

WASHINGTON, March 10 (INS)—War Secretary Stimson today disavowed any War Department attempt to "smear" Gen. MacArthur as a potential presidential candidate and agreed that the Army must avoid distribution of partisan material.

In a letter to Sen. Vandenberg (R.) of Michigan, who charged the department with encouraging circulation of a "smear" article against Gen. MacArthur, Stimson said he would cancel a bulletin listing 10 outstanding magazine articles.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND (By Air Transport)—Things, people and places I will never forget—Those disheartening afternoons at a U. Capt. Richard R. Ketchum

And the morbid vigil while the medical sergeant-major said: "They're coming in now," and presently the blanketed, huddled figures of the crewmen on stretchers—pallid, wan and blood-drained, as the surgeons thrust plasma needles into their arms and the life-giving fluid seeped slowly into emptied veins.

And how, as I watched the tragic tableau, Capt. Dick R. Ketchum of Union st., Marshfield (the Harvard varsity pitcher of '29), brought in Second Lieut. Hugh J. McCarthy, a bocky, dark-haired youth who lives at 21 Curve st., Millis. And while the surgeon turned back fhceid eyelids and said softly, "Ahh, he's coming around . . . see that color."

Dick and Hugi had talked about the mechanical perfection of the Automatic Flight Control (AFC) which the bomber pilots called "George" and which sometimes brought them home safely after their controls had been shot out. And how, while the blood plasma, which might have been YOUR blood, brought feeble flickerings of candlelight back to the gray faces of the wounded men, Hugh mentioned he had only three more missions before his graduation.

And the fog-drenched country, where everything drips and nothing ever dries, where I spent congenial days at the Division Staff mansion, and chatted with a gray general. And how he'd talked about his son, "Junior," a captain-fighter pilot. And that later day, at a Thunderbolt base, when I sat chatting before the "briefing hour" with a young officer, freshly out of West Point, who said wistfully, "Maybe you met my dad."

And that preoccupied captain who forgot to invite my jeep driver and me to Christmas dinner in the deep of the British down-country while a collection of Greater Boston soldiers dropped hints that fell on uncomprehending ears. And how finally, rather than disturb the poor C. O., who was brooding on home thoughts, we jeeped some miles deeper through the bleak, okra soup weather, and instead of eating dinner with one set of top guys, ate it with another set. And so, loathfully we left behind us camaraderie of such men as:

Bricker Attacks New Deal Turn To Absolutism

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
Special to the Boston Evening American

CHICAGO, March 10—In a smashing attack on European absolutism in the New Deal government, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio revealed the pattern of the campaign he would wage against Mr. Roosevelt if both should be the candidates of their parties for President this year.

He described the American people as fighting a great war, not only to preserve freedom elsewhere in the world, but to save constitutional government at home.

Speaking before the John Ericsson League of Illinois, Gov. Bricker charged that the New Deal has centralized power in the hands of President Roosevelt in violation of the Constitution.

Gov. Bricker dealt repeated blows at the Roosevelt regime, which he charged with the deliberate intent of destroying the States and making state citizenship meaningless. The same attitude, he said, was reflected in the Administration's efforts to force the adoption of a federal soldier's voting law.

"The basic issue of our time," he said, "is whether one man or one party shall permanently regiment 130,000,000 Americans, or whether they shall continue to govern themselves through time-tested institutions of self-government.

"Our American system was intended to be a government of and by laws. Under the New Deal it has become a government of and by men.

"During the past 11 years, those in power in Washington have permitted this nation to be blown off its course by the winds of absolutism, emanating from Europe. They lost faith in the capacity of our people to govern themselves.

"The attack on the Supreme Court in 1937 was a part of the plan to bend our people to the will of bureaucratic rule.

"Throughout the long history of this nation the Supreme Court has been our bulwark against constitutional decay. During the 144 years that preceded the New Deal, the court found 61 congressional acts or parts of acts in conflict with the Constitution. But during the first four years of the New Deal, the court was compelled to hold 12 acts to be unconstitutional.

"While the court packing plan was defeated, the President has achieved his purpose to bend the court to New Deal philosophy through subsequent appointments.

GOV. JOHN W. BRICKER WITH MRS. HARRIET BRICKER AND SON, JACK, 13
Ohio's Governor Arrives in Boston Tomorrow For Swing Through Southern New England

Bricker Talk Here Will Be Broadcast

Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio will speak for half an hour Sunday evening on "National Issues Concerning the American People" over 21 stations of the Yankee Network and two frequency modulation stations.

The broadcast, originating at Station WNAC, will be at 6 p. m. and will precede the Ohio chief executive's appearance at the Boston University Institute on Post-war Problems, from 7:30 to 9 p. m. Sunday.

Gov. Bricker will arrive in Worcester at 10:45 a. m. tomorrow from Columbus, O. With him will be Ohio's First Lady, Mrs. Harriet Day Bricker; the Governor's campaign manager, Roy D. Moore; the executive assistant, Robert L. Barton, and J. J. Fjanagan, press secretary.

At Worcester, the Bricker party will be met by a delegation of Rhode Island State Republicans and driven to Providence. The Governor's party will register at the Providence-Biltmore and he will see the press at 12:30.

SPEAKS IN PROVIDENCE

He has been asked to attend two private luncheons at Providence, but his next public appearance will be at a banquet in the Biltmore Saturday evening, sponsored by Rhode Island state Republican organizations.

Following the Providence banquet, Gov. and Mrs. Bricker, with their party, will motor to Boston and the Hotel Statler, and on Sunday morning the couple will attend services in a Boston church.

At 1 p. m. Sunday the Governor will be a luncheon guest of Gov. Saltonstall at the Algonquin Club, and at 3 p. m. Gov. and Mrs. Bricker will be taken to the Saltonstall home at Chestnut Hill to be guests of the Saltonstalls.

The radio broadcast and Gov. Bricker's appearance at the Boston University forum will close his program for Sunday.

SALTONSTALL'S GUEST

At the forum, Gov. Bricker, President Charles Seymour of Yale and President R. B. von Kleinsmid of the University of Southern California will discuss the Pacific, the European and the domestic policies of America under the general subject, "America's Postwar Policies."

Monday, at 9:30 a. m., Gov. Bricker will attend the Boston University Founders' Day convocation at Trinity Church, where he will be awarded an honorary degree. At noon Monday, the Ohio chief executive will be a luncheon guest of President Daniel L. Marsh of the university.

At 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, Gov. Bricker will visit Gov. Saltonstall at the State House and, after meeting elected and appointed officials and department heads, will hold a press conference.

Monday evening he will make a special appearance at the end of the Boston University banquet at the Copley-Plaza, but due to previous private commitments will be unable to attend the banquet itself

Following the banquet, Gov. and Mrs. Bricker again will be overnight guests of the Saltonstals at Chestnut Hill.

Tuesday, at 11 a. m., the Bricker party will leave Boston for Springfield, where he will attend a luncheon and an evening meeting.

F. D. Battles With Form 1040

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—So you can't get anything done for figuring on that blasted income tax? Move over, brother, you've got some distinguished company.

President Roosevelt, it seems, is struggling with form 1040, which you probably can see in your sleep by now. You'd think, wouldn't you, that he'd just call up the Treasury and have Henry Morgenthau send over an expert or two?

But not F. D. R. He does it the hard way, computes the whole thing himself.

They'll tell you at the White House the presidential desk, at a given hour during the last three days, has been piled high with papers and forms.

Because the operation of his mother's estate involves among other things, the renting of some bungalows, the Roosevelt return is more complicated this year, but a couple of more whirls at it and it ought to be ready for the Internal Revenue collector.

Murder Outs

LISBON, March 10 (AP)—A murder mystery 400 years old has been uncovered in the Italian city of Viterbo by Allied aerial bombs, according to a Rome dispatch in a copy of the Hamburger Fremdenblatt received here.

The dispatch said that the bodies of two men and a woman, all with fractured skulls and clad in Sixteenth Century dress, were found in the sarcophagus of Cardinal Vice Domini when preparations were made to move it from a bomb-damaged church. The Cardinal died in the Thirteenth Century.

Army, Navy Officers Back Omnibus Bill

By FRANK REILLY
Boston American Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10—Scoring a signal success in their battle for passage of the "G-I Bill of Rights," American Legion officials today won from a group of 20 Army and Navy officers their complete approval of the measure for rehabilitation of veterans.

A six-hour conference between Legion leaders and the military men during the night, which did not break up until after midnight, ended in the military group's withdrawing of all objections which they had raised to the omnibus bill.

Unexpectedly, they had appeared before the House committee on veterans' legislation to oppose the measure on certain technical grounds, but as a result of the six hours of arbitration, all differences were settled.

Col. James E. Morrisett, assistant judge advocate general of the Army and spokesmen for the gold-braid group, announced he would appear later today before House and Senate committees studying the omnibus bill and give it his formal endorsement.

Ex-Gov. John Stelle of Illinois, chairman of the Legion's special legislative committee, said minor technicalities of the proposed law are being adjusted at the request of the Army and Navy men, but that the small changes in no way weaken the protection which the bill gives to America's fighting men and women.

The "peace" conference which brought about the Army and Navy's complete withdrawal of opposition was arranged by National Comdr. Warren H. Atherton of the American Legion, in an interview with Maj.-Gen. Myron C. Cramer, judge advocate general.

It is expected the measure, which provides educational opportunities, financial aid for purchases of homes or small businesses, complete hospitalization and up to a year's unemployment compensation for those who need it, will be reported out of committee for action in both branches of Congress early next week.

Tito-Peter Pact May Be Near

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Negotiations looking toward settlement of differences between the Yugoslav government-in-exile and Marshal Tito, leader of the Yugoslav Partisan government, were expected to begin shortly as King Peter and two of his chief ministers arrived in London today from Cairo.

Possible solutions of the Yugoslav impasse include a merging of Peter's cabinet with that of Tito, with Peter disclaiming Gen. Mihailovic; or Peter may jettison his cabinet and join Tito as titular head of the Partisan government, which would then be recognized by the Allies.

Reports Peter and Princess Alexandra, niece of King George of Greece, might be married during Peter's present trip to London, were prevalent today.

King George also is in London, it was revealed.

Tito Presses Slovenia Drive

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Yugoslav forces pressing a determined offensive in Slovenia have inflicted severe casualties upon the Germans and are continuing a steady advance, Marshal Tito announced today.

The communique, broadcast from his headquarters, credited repeated successes to units smashing at the Nazis between Ljubljana and Novo Mesto.

Noxon Freedom on Bail Sought After Mistrial

By PAULINE WARREN
Boston American Staff Writer

PITTSFIELD, March 10—Former Gov. Joseph B. Ely, chief defense counsel for Atty. John F. Noxon, Jr., was ready today to present a motion in Berkshire Superior Court that the wealthy corporation lawyer, accused of murdering his baby son, be freed on bail.

As soon as Judge Abraham E. Pinanski, who declared a mistrial in the case, or some other member of the superior court bench, is appointed by Chief Justice John P. Higgins to sit in Pittsfield, the motion will be offered in Noxon's behalf, ex-Gov. Ely said.

The defendant's military service to his country during the last war has impaired and endangered his health, it will be claimed. Noxon was injured by gas and following the war his health was further weakened by an attack of infantile paralysis which left him a cripple.

MISTRIAL DECLARED

Judge Pinanski declared a mistrial because of the illness of Juror No. 9, James E. Cullen, Pittsfield school committeeman and a foreman at the General Electric Co. here, who first was sick two days with the grippe and later suffered a relapse along with a spell of "nerves."

His weakened condition prevented him from continuing as a juror, with the duty of hearing much harrowing testimony concerning the death by electrical shock of little Lawrence Noxon, six-month-old mongoloid.

Overnight, demands for a state law providing a 13th or alternate juror in capital cases multiplied after Dist. Atty. Charles R. Alberti cited the heavy expense in time and money, all wasted, which the prosecution and defendant have been forced to undergo.

SEEK CHANGE IN LA W

In Boston, the Massachusetts County Commissioners and Sheriffs Ass'n voted unanimously, during their monthly meeting at the Hotel Touraine, to seek a law designed to prevent repetition of such an occurrence.

The association appointed a committee of three members to draw up a bill to be submitted at the next session of the legislature. State Rep. Patrick McDonough, vice-chairman of the Democratic state committee, announced he would file a similar bill.

Sen. Austin's Son Leads Tank Smash

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—An American tank-destroyer battalion, led by Maj. Edward L. Austin, son of Sen. Warren R. Austin (R.) of Vermont, halted the Nazi drive on the Anzio beachhead in Italy on Feb. 16-17, the New York Herald Tribune said today in a copyright dispatch from Homer Bigart.

The dispatch quoted Capt. James Legendre of New York, battalion officer, as saying the battalion had never encountered an enemy tank until it arrived on the beachhead, but on one day alone—Feb. 17—the crews sighted 30 to 40 tanks and destroyed 25 and damaged others.

Some of the tank-destroyer units were overrun by German infantry and tanks but the main defense line held and knocked the enemy back, Bigart said.

5 WACS HELD IN NOTE SWAP WITH NAZIS

CAMP HALE, Col., March 10 (AP)—Military disclosures that five WACs exchanged notes with German war prisoners and that eight American soldiers helped two prisoners escape emerged today from investigation of the Germans' flight from Camp Hale with an accused traitor.

An Army announcement made clear, however, that the notes were not linked with the escape of the Germans, who were captured in Mexico Feb. 18 along with Pfc. Dale Maple, 23, of San Diego, Cal.

Lieut.-Col. John A. Chase, camp commander, said: "You can draw your own conclusions about contents of the notes."

"Three of the WACS, Pvt. Frances H. Bundorf, Birmingham, Ala., Pvt. Florence C. Rechon, New Orleans, La., and Pvt. Margerete (cq) L. Franklin, Oakland, Cal., already have been before courts martial at Camp Hale and pleaded guilty," said the release.

"They were given sentences ranging from four to six months confinement. The remaining two are to be tried in the near future."

Half of U. S. Taxes To Come in 5 Days

Disclosing that only about 50 per cent of Boston tax-payers have filed their federal income tax returns, Internal Revenue Collector Denis W. Delaney today warned that only five business days remain before the deadline next Wednesday, March 15.

Final hour for personal filing is 5 p. m., Wednesday, and the mail deadline Wednesday midnight. Offices of the internal revenue service at 144 Milk st., and on the eighth floor of the federal building will be open today, tomorrow, and on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. March 26.

Jane Bancroft, War Widow, Will Rewed

Mrs. Jane Bancroft Decker, Boston and Cohasset society girl who was widowed seven months after her marriage to Naval Lieut. Ernest Elden Decker when he was killed in action in Guadalcanal, will be married late today to Lieut. Edwin Lee Steele, USNR, of St. Louis, at St. Stephen's Church, Cohasset.

Thus, happiness comes again to the socially prominent and attractive widow.

Her first marriage was in February, 1942, and ended tragically the following September.

Mrs. Decker said she met her bridegroom in Cohasset last summer, when he was stationed nearby at the Naval Air Station, South Weymouth. They plan to live in Cohasset, following a brief honeymoon, although, she added, "we haven't found a home yet."

"The wedding will be very small," she explained. "My sister, Mrs. William C. Cox, of Cohasset, will be matron of honor, my brother-in-law, Bill Cox, will be best man, and my brother, Hugh Bancroft, will give me away."

Lieut. Steele is the son of Mrs. Walton W. Steele and the late Mr. Steele of St. Louis. He is a graduate of the U. of Alabama, 1931, and before entering the Navy, was associated with the Mississippi Valley Trust Co.

His mother and his sister, Mrs. Hugh C. Dunaway, came here from St. Louis for the wedding. Following the ceremony, a reception will be held at the home of Mrs. Cox, in The Oaks, Cohasset.

Mrs. Decker, a graduate of the Winsor School and a debutante of 1931, took a prominent part in Vincent Club and Junior League theatricals, and in 1935 she began a professional career on the stage.

Beaten Jap Marines Admiralty Suicides

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION ON LOS NEGROS ISLAND, March 5 (Delayed) (AP)—These are the emperor's front-line troops on Los Negros, big marines, well-trained, well-nourished, well-armed, proud wearers of their dragon belts.

These are Japan's proud warriors. So when they failed to crack the line held by American First Cavalry Division troops, the Japanese took their own lives rather than admit failure.

"One Jap officer jumped up on a bunker directly in front of us," said Pfc. Wilbur Resler, "waving a Jap battle flag in one hand and a sword in the other.

DIE BY OWN SWORDS

"'Kill all the American dogs,' the officer shouted. Then he plunged his sword into his own stomach."

They waited until night, then charged American lines singly, in twos, threes, even in waves, always with a desperate, reckless daring. And when they failed—

"I saw one group of a dozen or so Japs gather in a circle in a clearing after we had thrown them back," said Pvt. Dan Burnett, Franklin, N. C., "then each pulled the pin on a grenade and held it against his chest. All were blasted to death."

Others seemed to invite death openly. One walked slowly toward American lines waving a huge bottle and refusing to stop at command. An instant later he was riddled by the fire of many rifles.

SING TEXAS SONG

"Probably in honor of our Ft. Bliss (Texas) background, they came at us singing 'Deep in the Heart of Texas' at the top of their squeaky voices," said Corp. J. L. Licon, El Paso, Tex.

In the sector held by the troop of which Carl Chiles, El Paso, is first sergeant, the Japanese attacked principally with grenades and bayonets. "Some of them had bayonets tied to long sticks instead of to their rifles," Chiles said.

During the night attack, Pfc. Walter Nielsen, Sheridan, Mich.; Pfc. Durrell N. Mesnard, Tiffin, O., and Pvt. Elwin Tobey, Eliot, Me., captured a Japanese machine gun and turned it into action against the enemy.

Dies Charges Red Party in 'Smear'

By DAVID SENTNER

WASHINGTON, March 10—The infiltration of the Communist Party into the 1944 political campaign was unmasked before a cheering House by Rep. Martin Dies (D.) of Texas, who charged the "smear campaign" of the Political Action Committee of the Congress of Industrial Organizations was under the leadership of subversive forces.

The chairman of the House Committee Investigating un-American Activities charged:

That a concerted and highly financed movement was under way, guided by Communist leaders, to ruin the American parliamentary system of government.

That the Communist Party "through stealth and subterfuge" had, in effect, elected Sidney Hillman, New Deal labor adviser and chief of the Political Action Committee, their leader instead of Earl Browder.

That the rank and file of workers attached to the CIO were being duped into following the Red "party line" with an intensive campaign of picturing the majority of members of Congress as being Fascist and sympathetic to Hitler.

Dies promised that in a forthcoming report of his committee the record of 500 leaders of the Hillman Political Action Committee would be linked with the Communist movement.

Dies pointed out that before the "embracing of Hitler by Stalin" the American Peace Mobilization, dominated by the Communist Party, encouraged strikes and stoppages of work in factories engaged in supplying munitions and weapons for England, and picketed the White House.

"You will recall, however, that when Hitler invaded Russia there was immediately a change of policy on the part of the leaders of the American Peace Mobilization," Dies added.

Save Crew of 20 On Sub-Chaser

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, March 10 (AP)—Rescue of a United States Navy sub-chaser and her crew of 20 men, adrift in the stormy North Atlantic for 23 hours without communication or motive power, was announced today by the Royal Canadian Navy.

A statement by naval service headquarters said a Canadian minesweeper threw a line to the disabled vessel and towed her to shore after sighting a distress flare.

The American ship first ran into grief when a drifting log smashed her steering gear. Before she could call for help, her radio system went dead, and while trying to make port through heavy seas she ran out of fuel.

Vet Hospital Plan Weighed By Legion

Executive committee officers of the state department, American Legion, today studied a proposed veterans' hospital program preparatory to submitting the plan to Gov. Saltonstall for action.

Under the plan, drawn up by State Comdr. John L. Delay and his aides, the state would finance construction of a soldiers' home and hospital in central Massachusetts. The hospital would be of 500-bed capacity with facilities for the care of medical and surgical cases of veterans.

Also included in the Legion proposal are recommendations for a national cemetery in Massachusetts, as well as separate tubercular and mental hospitals to be located in this state and financed and run by the federal government.

Legion officials also announced the offer of 10 National Commander scholarships, five to sons and five to daughters of deceased veterans of this or the last war. Applications should be sent to John P. Murray, 123 Bellingham st., Chelsea.

FINN CIVIL WAR SEEN IN FIRST RED PROPOSAL

STOCKHOLM, March 10 (AP) —Acceptance of Russia's original armistice demands might precipitate civil war in Finland, Eric Lindquist, foreign editor of the Swedish newspaper Morgon Tidningen reported today after a trip to Helsinki.

While Finland was reported awaiting Moscow's reaction to a revised Finnish answer to the Russian terms, Lindquist reported Finnish public opinion was so unprepared for peace that only one person could unite the people—Field Marshal Mannerheim, Finnish commander-in-chief.

Opposition to the government's attempts to get out of the war is strong because the blackout of information had left the people unaware of the nation's real predicament.

Honesty of Girl, 9, Brings Loser Joy

Patricia Currier of Joy st., West End, is only 9 but she knows that honesty is the best policy.

She picked up a tiny purse containing 17 pennies today and hurried with it to her friends in Joy st. police station, knowing they would find the owner.

Sure enough, within a half-hour after Patricia left, Grace Mustole, 7, of Cambridge st., West End, ran into the station from Peter Fanueil school, tearfully asking if her purse had been found.

With the purse tightly gripped in her hand, Grace explained the money was for milk at school.

Cuban 'Gin' Assigned New Label, New Price

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) —An alcoholic beverage produced in Cuba and Mexico and sold as "gin" was assigned new prices and a new label today.

The beverage is officially "distilled spirits made from cane products and flavored with aromatics."

New base import prices, effective March 16, are $1.23 a proof gallon for the Cuban product and $1.38 for the Mexican beverage.

How To Hold
FALSE TEETH
More Firmly in Place

Do your false teeth annoy and embarrass by slipping, dropping or wabbling when you eat, laugh or talk? Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This alkaline (non-acid) powder holds false teeth more firmly and more comfortably. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Veterans' Friend

Q—I have an honorable discharge from the Army dated April 12, 1941. The reason was dependency. Under the new provisions am I entitled to mustering-out pay? J. C., Roxbury

A—No. Discharges after Dec. 7, 1941 are the only ones eligible for mustering-out pay. Those who requested discharge over 38 to enter defense work are barred from benefits. Discharges, due to dependency, however are entitled to pay, under the recent amendment.

Q—I would like to know where I apply for an Army veteran's World War II pin? H. C., Randolph

A—Hotel Buckminster, Kenmore sq., Boston. Commanding Officer Hq. Detachment, First Service Command.

Q—Since I discovered that men over 38, discharged from service, are not entitled to mustering-out pay, providing they requested discharge, how do I go about getting papers returned to me which I mailed to Finance Officer, Boston? M. J. L., Central Falls, R. I.

A—Your papers will be returned to you within a few days. The office has been swamped with applications and that has caused a slight delay.

Q—I am a discharged Marine. My papers were forwarded to Washington for mustering-out pay. Since I have been told I should have sent them to Boston. Is that correct? N. C., Brockton

A—You did the correct thing. Boston is only for the Army. It may take another week.

Q—I served with the WAACs and when it became the WAC I accepted the opportunity to resign receiving an honorable discharge. Do I receive mustering-out pay? T. S., Roxbury

A—No. It was only after that organization became a component part of the Army, Women's Army Corps, that they were granted the same privileges as members of the Army. However, any WACs now being honorably discharged from the service are allowed to apply for mustering-out pay benefits.

Q—Where can I inquire about my service insurance here in Boston. D. P., East Boston

A—Veterans Administration Office, Federal Building.

(All letters addressed to Veterans' Friend, Boston Record-American, will be answered in this column unless an answer is desired by mail, in which case enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.)

British Sailors Out of Parade St. Patrick's Day

Representatives of the British Royal Navy in Boston rescinded today a previous statement that 50 British tars would march in the March 17 Evacuation Day and St. Patrick's Day parade in South Boston.

"There was a misunderstanding," officers said at the British navy office.

"We are perfectly willing to cooperate," they added, "but apparently there was no official invitation."

John F. Walsh, the parade's chief marshal, said: "The misunderstanding apparently arose when a member of the staff of the marshal of the civic division had a telephone conversation with British authorities.

"The marshal of that section is organizing an Allied Nations pageant for the parade and it was discussed what could be done to get a representation from the British people living in Boston."

The parade will mark the 168th anniversary of the evacuation of Boston by the British under the guns of the Revolutionary Army.

Sleeping in Chairs Brings 'Shelter Legs'

LONDON, March 10 (AP)—Women who spend their nights sleeping in deck chairs in air raid shelters are in danger of being afflicted with "shelter legs"—an unsightly swelling of the lower limbs—says the Lancet, a medical journal.

Ask Schools to Aid in Paper Salvage

In letters to 6500 Boston school teachers, Red Cross War Fund Chairman Charles F. Rowley and City Salvage Director George C. Hyland today asked them to enlist the help of all public and parochial school students in the March campaign for waste paper salvage.

If you find them scarce....

there's a Wartime reason!

In January, 1940, almost two years before we were in the war, government agents visited the Benrus Watch plants to survey the possibilities of converting them to the manufacture of war products. Soon thereafter orders began to come in. Conversion was already in progress. Naturally, with the great effort on the part of Benrus and their workers to bring total victory, there are not as many Benrus watches available for the public. However, the Rogers Jewelry Stores do have Benrus watches and are able to serve you. Come in and see the models that are available.

REDS MAY GET YANK SHIPS IN ITALY DEAL

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—More than a dozen British and American surface warships plus a score of other naval craft may be assigned to Russia under the deal now pending for dispersal of the Italian fleet.

The present plan, it was learned today, is to transfer British and American naval units to Russian operation for the duration of the war and leave the Italian fleet relatively intact in the Mediterranean, where it has performed well under American and British direction.

Once the Russians have been instructed in the handling of vessels they get, strategic factors indicate they will be put in service on the northern supply route to Murmansk. They can not be moved into the Black sea because of German control of the eastern Mediterranean. Eventually, if Russia goes to war with Japan, they might be employed in the Pacific.

Figures on the number of Italian warships surrendered are vague at best, but they show approximately five battleships, some of them old and damaged, eight cruisers, 27 destroyers and an aircraft carrier.

In addition, the Italians probably surrendered about 60 submarines and a number of torpedo boats and other small craft.

Cabbage and Turnips Rotting in Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, March 10 - The New Orleans States said that Lousiana farmers are plowing under healthy cabbage, or feeding it to hogs, because they find it brings too low a price to warrant hauling it to market.

Likewise, the story said, Creole lettuce and turnips lie "rotting, awaiting the plow in other fields."

Northeastern U. business student who once worked for Joseph J. Manning Tobacco; Corp. William J. Kaplan of 33 Bridge st., who used to play his games at Lakeview and Colburn, and Sergt. Gerald Aunchman of 64 Fourth st., a brother-in-law of Kaplan, and Corp. John F. Coughlin of 549 Wilder st., whose predilection for horseshoe pitching with the "Colburn Aces" has lately been thwarted because of the dearth of horses.

And Pvt. Anthony J. Coladuca of 8 Hart st., Brookline, who played center for Tom Larkins' 1937 high school varsity. And Pvt. Gerard E. Turgeon, RFD., Attleboro, an ex-lace-weaver in Pawtucket. And Pvt. Ralph Kruk of 39 Main st., South Deerfield, who worked for the G. T. & D. Corp. and wants to do it again.

And Pvt. Arthur T. Nohelty of 14 Waitt rd., Lynn. And Staff Sergt. John R. Burke of 42 Mildred ave., Mattapan, a former metal-lathing worker who liked to bowl at the Huntington Alleys. And two peacetime pals from Middleboro, Corp. James J. Mullins of 1105 Center st., who was office manager for Dwyer Milk of Weymouth, and Corp. Carlton H. Allen of 7 Everett st., who made shoes for George E. Keith Co.

And how, after saying affable farewells, we had our Christmas drumsticks down the line with another outfit, where one of the company cooks was Corp. Henry J. McArdle of 6 Druid st., Dorchester, a former funeral director, who said he'd rather "feed 'em than bury them."

And that wayside stop at a base hospital where an itinerant newsman could always find a snack of something, and a Bostonian or three—like Pvt. Leo V. Stevens of 23 Folsom st., Boston, a B. U. grad in the class of '33, who was bemoaning the lateness of the mail and the memory of the evenings spent at Lanny's. And Second Lieut. Elizabeth H. Grush of 44 Kidder st., West Somerville, who used to supervise the "surgical" at Peter Bent Brigham.

And Pfc. Walter E. Kraus of 630 Chestnut st., Lynn, who wants to take the Civil Service after the war, and work for the Lynn P. O. And Second Lieut. Priscilla Green (Holenhorst) of 63 Armadine st., Dorchester, who married her hospital adjutant last Oct. 11, and with him, made a perfect hostess in the little Nisson hut dining hall, where there was slumgullion for lunch.

And how the transformed girls' school where the hospital was located, smelt of antiseptics, and was spotlessly clean — a quality that is so of every building which the Americans have taken over, to the great gratitude of their original owners, who are pleasantly disappointed to find that their quaint U. S. guests are not "kickin' hell out of things," as the familiar U. S. saying is.

GOOD Just 2 drops Penetro Nose Drops in each nostril help you breathe freer almost instantly, to give your head cold air. 25c—2½ times as much for 50c. Caution: Use only as directed. Always get Penetro Nose Drops

And that rain-drenched town with its barbered, rush roofs in a hollow of the hills, where in a moist Dickensonian setting that smell of wood smoke I found 2nd Lieut. Donald C. Spears of Robinswood rd., South Weymouth, who used to work for Art Reilly in Employers' Liability, and whom I had last seen at an insurance dinner in the Boston Chamber of Commerce Building two years ago. And how as we talked in the squat, medieval guardroom, with its centuries of soot, the drip of rain had played an obbligato on the eaves against the symphony of the wind, and the mournful rattle of windows.

And the ancient mansion, made famous by Daphne du Maurier's story of "Rebecca" where I lunched in an ancient stable surmounted by a 1750 clock which still kept perfect time, and whose chimes regulated the life of the little army post. And the talk over a lunch of fried spam and diced carrots with Pvt. Owen J. Murray of 79 Manthorne rd., West Roxbury, who used to be an exterior decorator, and whose last peacetime job was for the Republican Women's Club beside the Boston State House.

And Tech. Sergt. Joe R. LeMay of 12½ Cherry st., Fitchburg, who worked for Quality Fruit Produce, and is now a "platoon artificer" (all right then—an artillery mechanic). And Pfc. Robert G. Cahill of 7 Willis st., Auburn, a jeep driver, who incongruously held the job of locomotive fireman for the New Haven. And Frank M. Sivis of Anthony ave., Swansea, a cannoneer who used to work in the Swansea Print Works.

And that vast, brick network of austere buildings which had once housed a peacetime British brigade, and now was a military city where an American armored outfit resided—a sprawling settlement of tenement-like barracks where I found Sergt. John W. Hamlin of 126 Green st., Lynn, whose wife, Hazel M. (Soucy) and children, Dorothy (4) and Sandra (3) are waiting hopefully.

And Capt. Curtis M. Clark of Exchange st., Millis, a patent lawyer who once studied chemistry at Massachusetts State, and led his company through the Sicilian campaign. And Pfc. Frank J. Pasternack of 28 Jackson st., Holyoke. And Pfc. Paul Holick of 52 Beaver st., Danbury, a hatter (but by no means a mad one) who worked for George McLaughlin.

POLIO VICTIMS IN TRIBUTE TO SISTER KENNY

CHICAGO, March 10—The curtain will go up on a drama of wonders tonight when scores of children, once tragically robbed of a youngster's natural right to run and play, assemble under their own power at Oriental Hall.

It will be a happy occasion, this mass meeting in honor of Sister Kenny, fighter extraordinary against infantile paralysis. For little faces, once twisted with terrible pain, are smiling again, thanks to the famed Australian nurse.

INCREDIBLE STORIES

Mothers, who in gratitude taught the children to remember Sister Kenny in their prayers, likewise will be there to tell each other almost incredible stories of recovery. But more than that, the mothers, together with relatives and neighbors, will join leaders of churches, civic organizations, labor unions and nurses, in a determined plea:

"Keep Sister Kenny in America!"

Pat Morison, Hollywood singing star, and Dr. Preston Bradley of the People's Church of Chicago, will have special stories to relate—of interest to families with loved ones afflicted by the disease.

Miss Morison, who has studied Sister Kenny's method, will tell how a fellow artist, Marjorie Lawrence, famed opera singer, staged a comeback after being stricken, hopelessly it seemed, with infantile paralysis.

HEAVY DEMANDS

Sister Kenny herself won't be there because of the heavy demands for her work in all parts of the country. Neither will Arthur Maeder, 18. Arthur won't be able to make it because he's busy helping to win the war.

Nobody ever thought young Maeder would get infantile paralysis, for he stood six feet, five inches tall and his weight was 200 pounds. But he did get it—and so bad even doctors said he'd never recover. Let his happy mother tell the rest:

"My boy was bed-ridden for months. But after they gave him Sister Kenny's hot pack treatments, he began to improve. Now Arthur is as strong as ever and is working in a war plant."

STABBED IN THE BACK BY ARTHRITIS

NOW is the time of the year when Arthritis is on the move, stabbing victim after victim with its deadly dagger of pain. If you are one of these unfortunate people, here is important information for you to know. Many people suffering from nagging arthritis pains in back, knees, shoulders and hands never suspect that these pains may be caused, in some cases, by excessive acids within the body.

As a dietary aid in the faster neutralization of these excessive acids which in turn may tend to bring speedier pain relief to this extent, Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets were devised by a well-known food nutritionist. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets contain food sodium and food iodine, two minerals of nutritional value which may prove to be helpful to many arthritis sufferers. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets are free from all harmful chemical drugs. They positively do not contain injurious ingredients of any kind.

CUT OUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT and present it with $1.95 at any Nature Food Centres Store to get your Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets. Take them as directed on the label and if they do not bring soothing relief to your aching joints and muscles faster than any other dietary aid you have ever used, THE TRIAL IS FREE! Just return the bottle and get your money back. Vig-Ore Sodeom Tablets cost only a few cents a day to use. 250 Tablet Bottle—$1.95. (500 Tablet Economy Size $3.25). Mail orders sent postpaid. BACK FROM HELL . . By Burris Jenkins, Jr.

MERCHANT SEAMAN SAM CANTOR OF CHICAGO HE HITCH-HIKES ON A NAZI U-BOAT
"SWIRLING CURRENTS SWEEP THEM AFT—THE MONSTROUS PROPELLER—STILL TURNING SLOWLY—HANGS OVER HEAD..."
"SITTING IN THE CROW'S NEST THE TORPEDO HITS JUST UNDER WHERE HE WAS WORKING..."
"THE 4TH MATE PADDLES THE RAFT ALONGSIDE THE SUB AND CLIMBS ABOARD...OTHERS FOLLOW...BUT NOT SAM..."

THE monstrous propeller—still turning slowly—hangs over his head . . .

The tips of the blades barely touch water, and then at the last second the propeller lifts as the 26 survivors are swept in against the rudder and the ship slides straight down, slow and easy . . .

There is no suction, only a rumbling roar as the bulkheads give and the cargo shifts, and then no sound at all except the hysterical crying of the blond kid whose brother went down with the gun crew. He was cursing the Nazis, yelling at the top of his voice . . .

And then Sam turned around to see the conning tower right in among them . . .

Crazy with fear, Sam dives for a floating bale of cotton. There are already men clinging to it. As Sam tries to scramble up on the bale, it begins to sink and the men swear at him. They are afraid of being machine-gunned, too, but they're not as afraid as Sam Cantor of Chicago is. Sam is Jewish.

A Nazi appears behind the machine-gun on the platform and another on the bridge of the U-boat and then three or four young Germans in shorts, beet-red from sunburn, climb down on the deck looking not more than 16 years old. One of them has a movie camera and begins to take pictures of the Americans in the water. Sam hides behind the bale of cotton.

The Nazi on the bridge shouts "Hatt you any wounded?"

A man in the water answers, "Eleven," meaning the number he guesses are missing. (His guess later proves exactly right.) The Nazi orders the men to paddle over to the submarine. There is nothing else the Americans can do.

Sailors Ask for Bottle of Schnapps

Some of the merchantmen try to laugh the situation off. "Hey, Mac," one of them shouts at the Nazi officer, as they approach, "got a bottle of schnapps handy?" The officer—apparently the skipper—only smiles indulgently. He is middle-aged, neat and trim in a buttoned tunic.

"Where iss your captain?" the U-boat commander asks.

His eyes fall on the officer's cap the fourth mate is wearing. The fourth mate is on a life raft.

"Come aboard, captain!" orders the sub commander.

That ain't the captain, that's only the fourth mate," the men in the water explain, but it makes no difference. The fourth mate paddles the raft alongside the sub and climbs aboard. Some of the other merchantmen follow. The German sailors watch them warily as they help them aboard and line them up on the deck of the sub. One of the U-boat crew dives overboard to [illegible] and still holds on to the line, and then hesitates a split second whether to go below and be drowned or stay up here and be shelled, for now, as he looks below at the fo'c'sle head, he sees there isn't any. It's blown away—windlass and all—and the bow of the old freighter is plowing under in a smother of foam. Already the well deck is under water as Sam, smeared with cable grease, slides down the mast so fast his hands and legs burn to blisters. He lands on the mast table and has to swim and fight his way through churning water to the main deck.

Sam and Navy Coxswain Are Last Men Off

More water cascades down on him from the ventilators overflowing on the main deck and he struggles up the ladder to the boat deck, where it is already too late to launch the lifeboats.

There is only an inch or so of freeboard when Sam and the Navy coxswain—the last men off the ship—step off into the water, Sam dressed only in shorts and shoes and without time to get a life-jacket.

Swirling currents sweep them aft, while steam and smoke rumble from the stack and they hear the thunder of shifting cargo, and then it's all over but the sub-marine[illegible]

Staying close to the Navy coxswain, Sam finally steps onto the deck of the U-boat. Nothing happens. The Nazi sailors gaze at him curiously, but not more than at the others. The merchant seamen cluster around the conning tower.

Four or five of the wounded men disappear down the sub's hatch and re-appear with fresh bandages, one with a ham sandwich on white bread, wrapped in wax paper.

None of the Germans does any talking but the skipper. Once he leans over the rail and unctuously declares:

"I am sorry, chentlemen. War iss war and it wass either you or me . . ."

He seems very satisfied with himself and the whole operation. Apparently it is this commander's first trip out and his first kill.

All this time a smudge of smoke on the horizon indicates another ship, and the Americans are worrying for fear it will run into range of this sub.

At last they are ordered onto the rafts and the U-boat skipper magnanimously asks the fourth mate if there is enough water in the casks. Every merchantmen who asks for it is given a final drink of water before departing.

Sam doesn't take the chance. He thinks he'll let well enough alone.

Neutral Tanker Lands Men at Curacao

The sub chugs away and in a matter of minutes the distant ship appears as if by prearrangement. The shipwrecked men frantically try to warn the approaching ship until they see it is a neutral tanker. The whole setup looks suspicious, but nobody mentions it as the ship heaves to and takes the men aboard up the jacob's ladder.

The neutral ship salvages the liferafts and all equipment and beds the men down in the fo'c'sle and on deck. In spite of two meals a day with a bottle of wine and crowded quarters, it's a relief to the Americans to run all night under lights and be able to smoke on deck during the 5½ days before they're dropped of at Curacao.

Sam has shipped on a lot of freighters since that summer of '42 and more than once his escort has fired on subs. But Sam is still waiting to see the floating fragments of a conning tower bearing the coat-of-arms insignia he will never forget. He intends to lean over the rail and repeat the words:

"Sorry, gentlemen—was it war, or was it either you or me . . ."

The Noxon Mistrial

MISTRIAL of the Noxon case at Pittsfield demonstrates, as Dist. Atty. Alberti points out, a glaring defect in the law of this Commonwealth.

The defect is failure of the law to provide for one or more alternates in the jury box.

Illness of one of the twelve jurors ended the trial inconclusively in its third week after much of the prosecution evidence had been presented and at considerable expense, estimated at $10,000.

Now it is necessary to begin all over again. Had an alternate been seated in the box against such a contingency there would have been no interruption.

Other States have laws to provide for alternates and Congress, as far back as 1932, enacted legislation permitting Federal judges to call one or two additional jurors as alternates for the hearing of cases that seem likely to be protracted. Even now one 14-man jury is sitting in United States court here.

Why such an obvious defect in our state law has been permitted to go uncorrected so long is a question for which there is no apparent answer except procrastination.

Most legal minds seem agreed that the question of double jeopardy does not arise with the mistrial of a capital case. But there are other factors to be considered.

The tremendous ordeal that the defendant and his family must undergo through further delay and the repetition of all that repugnant testimony is one to be considered.

And if the victim is innocent, how terrible that must be!

Here, then, is a defect everybody recognizes. Is there any real reason why it should not be corrected by the Legislature which is coming into special session?

Justice for Service Men

IT WILL BE hard for most Americans to find either logic or justice in the War Department's vigorous defense of what has been widely condemned as a "psychological confidence game" against America's discharged and disabled service men.

Yesterday Washington beheld a formidable parade of the military hierarchy before the House Committee on Veterans' Legislation.

The Committee was conducting hearings on the "Bill of Rights for GI Joe and JI Jane," with special attention on provisions which would accomplish these two desirable aims:

1—Authorize representatives of certified veterans' organizations, including the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to enter Army and Navy hospitals to inform veterans of their rights.

2—Set up boards of review within the Army and Navy to look into all cases of other than honorable discharges which might bar a soldier or sailor from receiving benefits under the "Bill of Rights," the Mustering-Out Pay Act or similar legislation.

The military authorities, with flashing gold braid and all, were there to have these guarantees stricken from the proposed law and, incidentally, from the lives of our fighting men.

Apparently these generals, colonels, majors and admirals lack a proper comprehension of the sorrow shared by thousands of veterans of this war who, for some trivial reason, have been given "blue discharges" after loyal service and, in many cases, after nerve-shattering experiences on battlefields.

However, there is satisfaction for service men in the strong probability that members of Congress will be more impressed by the plight of returning soldiers and sailors than by the arguments of officers still stationed in safe Washington.

This was indicated by Congressman John E. Rankin of Mississippi, chairman of the Veterans' Legislation Committee, who expressed the belief that the War Department was going too far and said that it was the suspiciously unfair and unjust discharges that had started the present demand for laws to protect the fighting men.

Commendable Leadership

GOVERNOR JOHN MOSES of North Dakota is the latest chief executive to begin the enfranchisement of the disenfranchised service men of eighteen, nineteen and twenty years of age.

In a message addressed to the law makers of his State, Governor Moses has rightly pointed out that men old enough to fight and die for their country are old enough to have a voice in the government of the country.

What is the matter with some of our New England Governors? Why are they silent? Why do they persist in lagging behind Governors in other parts of the country?

Surely they would not want to say to the young fighting men of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps:

"You may fight, bleed and probably die for liberty, but we will not grant you the liberty of voting."

Complicated legal machinery may delay the extension of the ballot to thousands of teen-aged service men.

But it is a safe prediction that a careful examination of the laws will reveal that the machinery is not half so cumbersome as it seems at first glance.

Be a stepmother kindly as she will,
There is in her love
Some hint of Winter's chill.
—THOMPSON

BEING a stepmother is a difficult task. Somebody should write a book "How To Be a Stepmother." However, it often happens that stepmothers bring up children better than their own mothers would have . . . The two-year-seven-months run of a terrific London stage hit has been interrupted so the company can present the play in the Mediterranean area for the entertainment of the British troops. How about interrupting the runs of "Oklahoma" and "One Touch of Venus" in New York so our troops could be entertained by these hits they've heard so much about? Or are our producers going to let the British theatrical men outdo them in generosity and patriotism?

SIDELIGHTS: Rudolph Valentino in "The Eagle" is being revived. If you never saw Rudolph you better look this film over and get an idea of what kind of a pinch-hitter boy your Mama preferred . . . There will be harness racing at Saratoga Springs, N. Y., this summer. I like harness racing as much as running racing. I know Clem McCarthy will never forgive me for this statement but that's my story . . . A health department said says lipstick smear on glasses and cups has made restaurants and bars more careful in washing dishes. Seems restaurant and bar owners just can't stand the bitter resignation of a male patron who finds lipstick smear on the cup or glass handed to him. A restaurant owner told me: "Some men get so burned up when they find lipstick on a glass they are really dangerous. They feel like throwing the glass at somebody, usually the owner or manager."

QUERIES FROM CLIENTS: Q—Name the Chicago lawyer who has not lost a case in 28 years. A—Mister, you have me stopped. I can hardly wait to hear the answer. Q—What do you think of a husband who will not wear a wedding ring because he says it makes a man "conspicuous." A—Evidently a sensitive fellow. His feelings should be respected. The point he brings up is debatable. I don't criticize him as I don't wear a wedding ring, either. Q—Do you remember T. Roy Barnes in "The Red Canary?" A—I missed that one, but I saw Mr. Barnes make his first New York appearance at Hammerstein's Music Hall, Manhattan. Barnes was one of the greatest ad-lib comedians of all time. Right now Jimmy Durante and Fred Allen are our best ad-lib comedians. Being able to get humor out of an unexpected situation is the true test of a comedian. Most of our leading comedians just speak the material written for them. If everything doesn't go according to plan they are bewildered.

"Go tell those men from Virginia to stop calling a 'General Sherman' tank a 'General Lee'!"

JOEL'S CHOICE: After their recent War Bond selling tour, each of the Quiz Kids received a gift of something he had expressed a wish to have. Joel Kupperman received a Cocker spaniel. I am disappointed in Joel. Maybe he is not so smart as I thought. Why didn't he ask for a Springer spaniel? That's a man's dog. Cocker spaniels are for the girls.

PASSING BY: "Bubbles" Mandel. Lady of the Ziegfeld Follies ensemble. Evidently "Bubbles" Schinasi is not the sole owner of her nickname . . . Ralph Slater. Hypnotist. Cures smokers. Puts them in a trance and when they come out of it they hate tobacco. I certainly am not going to let Mr. Slater hypnotize me. He might get me in a trance and cure me of smoking. I would never forgive anybody who cured me of cigar smoking . . . Garrett Whiteside. Of the Washington, D. C., set. Ninety-nine per cent of men are averse to having a woman boss. Mr. Whiteside is of the 1 per cent who does not mind being in that position. He is Senator Hattie Caraway's secretary.

ALMOST CONFIDENTIAL: "Husband and wife come to look alike at last," said O. W. Holmes. Have you noticed anything like that at your house? . . . In Minneapolis "drinking cards" are to be issued to persons from 21 to 24 years old. For anybody under 21 it will be "no card, no drink." This will automatically bar all under 21 from cocktail bars. An excellent idea. Should be copied in all cities . . . The wittiest radio program is that of Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. That's what I think. I note Canada agrees, as Edgar and Charlie are rated the top program there, even above Fibber McGee and Molly.

PASSING BY: David Warfield. Distinguished thespian who your grandpappy will recall as the star of "The Music Master." Mr. Warfield, now 77, has lived in the same Manhattan apartment for 37 years. He still enjoys a good cigar and a long walk. It is remarkable how many sturdy old boys live in Manhattan. What keeps them so healthy? It can't be the climate. Must be life in a big city keeps a man's mind active. An active mind is more important to good health than an even climate . . . Jimmy Starr. Newspaperman. For 20 years has been planning to write a novel and now has done it. The opus is a mystery story bearing the quaint title, "The Corpse Came C. O. D."

PLEASE NOTE: So Tony Galento, 34 years old, has been rejected for general military service because of "excessive weight." Tony weighs 261 pounds. Why couldn't they train him down, take him in the Army and use him to make boxing exhibition tours the same as Joe Louis? Who is the most vigorous and physically active old boy in the world? How about nominating R. Bailey of London for that distinction? Mr. Bailey, 63 years old, was a recent competitor in a 10-mile road race. He covered the distance in 72 minutes and 17 seconds. The average 63-year-old man has not enough stamina to run once around the block.

ASIDES: Dale Hale of Chicago has been made a member of the My-Name-Is-a-Poem Club . . . A traveling man says in Columbus, O., he heard a man ordering breakfast ask for "a shot of whisky and a piece of yesterday's banana pie" . . . A song about Ida which does not include the word "cider" in the lyrics for rhyming purposes is "I Idolize Ida but Ida Lies to Me." Bert Swor sang this one.

"Y'know as bad as this war really is . . . it does have OTHER ANGLES!"

Hollywood Today

By Louella O. Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, March 10—Ann Sheridan (I nearly said Happy Ann Sheridan—she is so bubbling these days) and Dennis Morgan are to be co-starred in "Sometimes I'm Happy," based on Vincent Youmans' life and songs.

In fact, that is the title of a Youmans song. I suspect the idea was born after Annie and Dennis finished the Nora Bayes piece, "Shine On Harvest Moon." You may not remember that it was Youmans who wrote, "Tea for Two," "I Want to Be Happy" and many other popular tunes.

The outstanding Youmans musicals were "Hit the Deck," "No, No, Nanette," "Hallelujah" and "Wildflower." "Hit the Deck" was made by RKO in 1930 and "No, No, Nanette" was a First National special, also of 1930. Youmans is due here to discuss the details of his life story with Jack Warner and Arthur Schwartz, the producer.

SISTER KENNY arrived in town Wednesday to be the house guest of Rosalind Russell. Simultaneously with the arrival of the woman who has done so much for infantile paralysis sufferers, we learn that Roz is playing "Sister Kenney"—and for RKO. The script is right back where it started—on Charlie Koerner's desk. I have an idea when the picture is made that it will be Mary McCarthy's script and not the treatment by Clifford Odets. Roz told me that she thought the McCarthy script was infinitely better. Never has there been such excitement over any one picture, and I am certainly glad that Roz, who loves Sister Kenny will play that grand woman.

★ ★ ★

JIMMY GLEASON, who is the spittin' image (as my grandmother used to say) of Ernie Pyle—same kindly face, crinkly smile and bald pate—will be seen as Ernie in "Here Is Your War!" That's what I call casting to type for Jimmy and Ernie could be twins. I'm glad Lester Cowan didn't decide to make Ernie Pyle a young, dashing war correspondent but picked a man who looks like him. Jimmy takes off Sunday for Arizona to do the exteriors.

★ ★ ★

I ASKED RISE STEVENS whether she wanted a boy or girl and she said, "I don't care, but my husband wants twins!" She expects her baby June 28 and she hasn't started on the nursery yet, but expects to this week. In September, Rise reports to Lester Cowan to star in the musical, "The Gypsy Baron." She says it is taken from "Command to Love." Rise's stock soared after she appeared with Bing Crosby in "Going My Way." I saw it with Father (Boystown) Flanagan and Fathers Thomas and Michael English last evening and we all vote for it—it's so tender and so human and such good entertainment.

★ ★ ★

ONE OF MY SCOUTS tells me that after Charles Rogers' "Song of the Open Road" was previewed a telephone call was put through to Louis B. Mayer in New York. Jane Powell, who makes her debut in this movie, is under contract to M-G-M and there is a wager that when it is released she will be as big as Deanna Durbin was after she made "Three Smart Girls." L. B. is being advised to obtain a vehicle for Jane, who sings like a lark. Her voice is as good as Kathryn Grayson's, with a personality plus. One of the M-G-Mers who talked to me said she has everything Judy Garland had when she was that age.

JANE WYATT's first picture since the birth of her baby will be "None But the Lonely Heart" at RKO with Cary Grant and Ethel Barrymore. She'll play "Aggie Hunter," which I suppose is more or less the heroine part. Although not so important or so big as that of the naughty gal with whom Cary is in love. I hope the Wyatt girl gets going on her career this time. She's an unusual screen type, but something always seems to happen. After her first hit in "Lost Horizon" she married, then the stork came along—but now, maybe she's on the road to fame.

SPYROS SKOURAS has reached London safely and his first conference was with the King of Greece, who flew over from Egypt for a special confab. Mrs. Spyros Skouras and Mrs. George Skouras, accompanied by Annette Downs, reached here a few days ago. They went on to Palm Springs for a few days and will return later in the week to be the house guests of the Charles Skouras. George, too, is overseas.

SNAPSHOTS OF HOLLYWOOD COLLECTED AT RANDOM: The price paid for "Over Twenty-One" is rumored as $350,000, and don't let anyone tell you Columbia hasn't bought it; Richard Jaeckel is threatening to join the Merchant Marine. He is only 17 and should wait a year; Eddie Sherman will wed Lillyn Luber next month; Baron Polan at the Beverly Tropics with Marguerite Chapman. He seems to be spending every eve with this young lady—or so it would appear from the number of their dates; Jane Stoneham, daughter of the president of the New York Giants, who was seeing Freeman Gosden practically every day, glimpsed with Kay Kyser at the Clover Club; Eddie Bracken fell on the ice and suffered a split eyebrow; Maureen O'Hara has taken a house at Malibu to await the arrival of her baby; Alan Ladd has permission to finish "Two Years Before the Mast" before he rejoins the Army; looks as if Hollywood may be well represented in both the national and state legislature this coming season; Helen Gahagan and Virginia Bruce plotting to run for Congress and Lucille Gleason and Albert Dekker for the State Assembly; the Betty Heath-Harry Ritz marriage is on ice and, 'tis said that his next bride will be Sally Moody, a dancer; Merle Oberon Chiefed out for New York to meet Sir Alex Korda; June Haver, on the 20th lot, may turn out to be another Betty Grable. She, too, is blonde, cute—and she sings and dances. That's all today. See you tomorrow!

My Day

By Eleanor Roosevelt

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Thursday—In Kingston, Jamaica, we visited the U. S. club which is run by Miss Mullaley. They have a nice building and are doing the most efficient work with a good program of activities covering every day in the week. From there we went to lunch with Mr. and Mrs. John Lord, our American consul and his wife.

We arrived at Kings House yesterday afternoon, where the Governor and Lady Huggins invited us to spend the night. We started out almost immediately to see a very good child welfare center.

★ ★ ★

AT THE DAY NURSERY where women who go to work leave their children and have them cared for at tuppence a day, we saw a number of tiny ones being fed their respective bottles. Out in the garden, in a screened-in house, a number of other youngsters were being taught in nursery school.

From there we went to the Jamaica Institute, which is an excellent library.

Then we drove through some of the poorest quarters in the city to a recreation club for boys called "Boys' Town".

★ ★ ★

NOW LADY HUGGINS IS planning to start a center for girls of the same type. We paid a brief visit to the tuberculosis sanitarium, which is a very fine hospital, and then we drove through the beautiful Hope gardens, arriving at Kings House, where the press was awaiting me for an interview at 5:15 p. m.

The war has hit these islands very hard. There have been shortages of food and great difficulty in obtaining the kind of food to which the islanders are accustomed.

3 Groups Top Drive Quotas In Red Cross

Three groups in the commerce and industry division of the Red Cross War Fund drive smashed all campaign records today by forging far ahead of their quotas, it was announced by General Chairman Charles F. Rowley.

First to go over the top was the raw wool industry of Boston, headed by Paul Draper of Draper & Co., which reported collecting 103 per cent of its quota.

The fruit and vegetables section, led by David Strock, collected 160 per cent of quota while Chairman Reuben Gryzmish of the tobacco group reported the tobacco industry had exceeded its goal by 40 per cent.

Chairman Rowley voiced his satisfaction over the success of these groups but emphasized that the final outcome of the campaign depends largely on individual contributions by the ordinary working man and woman.

Scores of appreciative letters, accompanied by donations, have flooded Red Cross headquarters since the start of the drive, some with the added message: "This is to repay for what you have done for me."

Typical contributions came from a Boston girl who was once stranded in Portugal; a soldier in a Tennessee hospital; a Navy man in England; a civilian patient at Carney Hospital, South Boston; a lieutenant in the Air Forces in North Africa; a warehouse owner whose brothers are in the service; and from "a frail old lady with a limited income."

Fair Enough

BRISTOL, Va.-Tenn., March 10 (AP)—The following advertisement has been placed in the Bristol Herald Courier:

"If the—who stole my coat on March 6 will look in the inside pocket of the coat and mail my completed income tax return and attached check to the Collector of Internal Revenue, he can come back and I will give him the vest and pants, no questions asked."

Youngest General's Wife Smith Graduate

By BETTY ALDEN

LUCY WRIGHT MERRILL, wife of 39-year-old Brig.-Gen. Frank D. Merrill, who is reported from Washington to be the youngest general line officer in the American Army, is one of three girls who were intimate friends at Smith in the late '20's. The others are Mrs. Warwick Thompkins and Mrs. Irving Johnson who won world wide fame when they sailed the seven seas on their husbands' schooners.

Mrs. Thompkins was Gwen Bohning of Ft. Worth, Tex. After she married Warwick, an American newspaperman, in Paris, they bought the old German pilot boat, Wanderbird, and in the years that followed made many romantic trips out of Boston and Gloucester. Sailing fans all over New England have been crew aboard the Wanderbird and her skipper and family are well known in Boston social circles. They are in California for the duration.

The Johnsons' romance began aboard the Wanderbird when Exy was visiting Gwen and Irving was a member of the crew. She was Electa Search of Rochester, N. Y., and Irving's home was in Holyoke. Even then he was an experienced sailor and on their honeymoon they bought the schooner Yankee in England. Gloucester was their home port and their cruises around the world with amateur crews became famous through Exy's books and Irving's lectures and movies.

MRS. IRVING JOHNSON — War forces her to give up seafaring life for home in Honolulu.

The Yankee is now a training ship, her skipper is a Lieut.-Comdr. in the Pacific, and Exy and the children are living in Honolulu.

★ ★ ★

IN COMPARISON Lucy Wright Merrill has been definitely a landlubber, but she's had plenty of thrills and adventure, too. Before the war she and her husband and sons lived in Tokyo. In '41 she and the boys were evacuated and did not see the general again till last May, when he had a brief leave in the States. There were many anxious months at the time of Bataan and Manila when they knew he was somewhere in that part of the world. Now he is commander of American combat units in Burma.

Living in North Woodstock, N. H., for the duration, and with Cannon Mountain practically at her back door, skiing is her favorite sport. Vivacious and fun-loving, she is a wonderful companion for her sons, Fritz 12, and Tommy 6.

At Smith and the U. of Cincinnati she majored in zoology and worked as a laboratory assistant. The year Fritz was born the Merrills lived in Watertown while the general, then a lieutenant, was at M. I. T. Having grown up next door to the Cincinnati Conservatory she loves good music but says she plays the piano like a typewriter—one finger method. Has a fine collection of classical records and is bringing Fritz to see the Opera in Boston next month. Her engagement ring is her husband's West Point miniature.

Runs a maidless house in wartime and enjoys entertaining informally, especially when she can surprise her guests with recipes she found in the Orient. Has a brother a captain in the medical corp abroad and makes a trip to Cincinnati to visit her family as often as possible. Lived at Fort Riley a few years and that was Tommy's birthplace.

Still loves strawberries and cream on shredded wheat which was one of the favorite springtime delicacies of Bones, Exy and Lucy at Hamp.

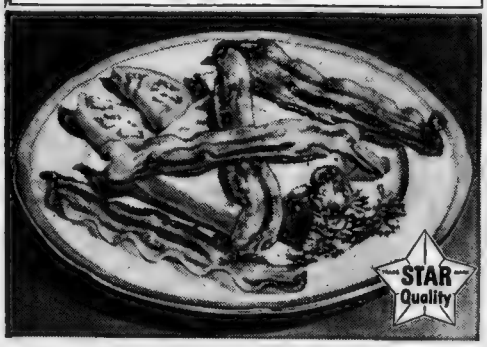
Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat



Bacon Rarebit Sandwich for Lunch or Supper

Two things every wise homemaker always keeps on hand are cheese and bacon. With these foods, it's easy to whip up any number of different types of meals in a hurry.

Here's an especially delicious bacon and cheese combination—so satisfying and flavorful that it even makes a fine dinner!

To serve six persons, mix ¼ cup mayonnaise with 1½ cups grated Cloverbloom American Cheese, 1½ teaspoons mustard, ¼ teaspoon paprika and ½ teaspoon Worcestershire Sauce. Spread mixture on 6 slices of sandwich bread, which has previously been toasted on the under side. Place under broiler rack until cheese is melted and lightly browned. Serve with crisp Star Bacon.

By asking for Armour's Star Bacon, you are sure to get the greatest enjoyment for your ration points. Star Bacon is made from choice bacon sides, sugar-cured by Armour's special method and slow-smoked over hickory and hardwood fires. It does not vary! You can depend on Star Bacon for finest flavor every time!

Mystery

Saugus cabin, the Sheridan murder can be quickly solved.

While declining to elaborate on this statement, Capt. DiSessa pointed out that bruise marks "made by someone with long, strong fingers," had been found on the neck of Mrs. Sheridan.

The woman, according to Dr. Brickley's autopsy report, died of strangulation by a cord tied tightly around her neck; she had also suffered a severe brain injury by being struck with a heavy, axe-like weapon; there were multiple contusions and bruises on her body; and she had been buried face down for some time, then exhumed.

Estimating she had been dead "since March 6 or 7," Dr. Brickley expressed belief her body had lain exposed for about 24 hours prior to its discovery. For perhaps a day and a half, the remains had been buried, he judged.

Boston police were investigating this bizarre murder when the bodies of McGuinness and Miss Power were found in the Saugus tourist cabin, where the couple had registered at 5:30 p. m. Wednesday as "Mr. and Mrs. James T. McGuinness."

Will Martin, proprietor of the roadside cabin colony, went to their cabin late yesterday afternoon to inquire if they planned to stay another night, when he was surprised to find icicles around the door and hanging from the eaves.

As he opened the door, a blast of steam nearly knocked him over, then he found the couple's bodies, seared by live steam escaping from a radiator.

There were signs of a struggle in the room. Furniture was upset, the radiator valve apparently knocked off.

Martin said he found Miss Power's body sprawled on the bed, that of McGuinness on the floor and reclining against an overturned chair. Both victims were but partly clothed. Several bottles containing liquor and ale, partly consumed, were found.

RETURNED WEDNESDAY

The tourist camp proprietor divulged that McGuinness, who is known in Amherst, N. H., Wilmington and Somerville as well as Charlestown, had stopped at the colony several times before with a woman, although whether it was Miss Power, Martin couldn't remember.

He said the couple had in fact been at the camp over Tuesday night, but checked out Wednesday morning. They returned Wednesday night.

McGuinness had a sister and four brothers in Boston, also a wife, Anna, and 17-year-old daughter living in Hinckley st., Somerville.

Maurice Power of Chelsea st., Charlestown, a Boston fireman, identified the body of Miss Power, his sister. Her 17-year-old adopted daughter, Marie, works as a waitress in a Navy Yard lunch room.

However, John H. McDonough, a baker, who police said had at first identified Mrs. Sheridan as his wife and later admitted they were not married but had lived together as man and wife, denied knowing either McGuinness or Miss Power.

Mrs. Sheridan, long a Charlestown resident and once known as the belle of that part of Boston, is said to have a husband, Thomas, in New York, from whom she had been estranged for several years.

Her body was officially identified by Mrs. Margaret Degnan of Mystic ave., Somerville, whose husband, William, is the dead woman's brother.

In their search for the grave in which Dr. Brickley believes the slain Sheridan woman lay, police came across a shallow excavation in the cellar of the same Edgeworth st. house where Mrs. Catherine McGinley, Charlestown's 85-year-old "Mother of Mercy," was tortured to death in 1942. Her murder has never been solved.

YOUR PERSONAL POST WAR WORLD

Says Elmer Christiansen, "Like many others on war jobs, I'm making more money these days.

"But I figure things this way: If we took this wartime money and went out to spend it—the Christiansens and others like us—we'd sure as anything bring on inflation.

"That would mean trouble now—and the end of our hopes for the future. That's why I know my family is on the right track—we're following every one of the seven points."

How YOU can team with Uncle Sam to hold down your own cost of living

IT'S HUMAN NATURE to try to make someone the goat when things go wrong. Maybe we're thinking already, "If the cost of living does go clear through the roof, it won't be our fault."

But we can't be sure of that. We see why when we take a good look at this threat of runaway prices. We find that we're going to have a mighty hard time shifting the blame from our own shoulders if prices do go haywire.

Of course, it's not entirely up to us. Our Government has a job to do—but Government price controls are not enough unless we as individuals pitch in and help to make these price controls work.

7 Things we can do

There they are in the box—the 7 things our Government says we can—and should—do right now to hold down prices.

Together they make a double-barreled weapon against an "out-of-sight" cost of living. How it "shoots" is doubly clear if we look in the next column at the causes of runaway prices.

Some of the seven points remind us that it's in our own interests to live up to price and ration regulations. The rest of the points show other ways to hold the lid on prices. They suggest that we put our wartime money, as much as we can of it, into places where it won't be handy for spending on goods.

It's a good program—it will help us and it will help win the war. Why not, if you already haven't done so, get going on it today?

Here's what causes Runaway Prices . . .

In war, most of our factories are working full time making weapons. And a whole lot fewer peacetime goods are being made.

At the same time, many of us are being paid more in wages and salaries than ever before.

If we disregard price ceilings and try to use this extra money to buy these few goods—bingo! prices start going up! It's just the way prices go up at an auction.

But if we all follow our Government's seven-point program, it's a sure bet that we'll keep prices under control.

68,000,000 Americans, with the help of their life insurance agents, are already doing one of these seven things. They have also found the peace of mind, the family protection, the feeling of independence that owning life insurance brings.

It is in the interest of these 68,000,000 people—as well as the nation as a whole—that the Life Insurance Companies of America have joined together to bring you this wartime message to help prevent runaway prices. Address inquiries to 60 East 42nd St., New York 17, New York.

ELMER CHRISTIANSEN works for a big shipbuilding company. His income is $3,380 a year. He manages to hold his basic living expenses, including taxes, down to $1,992—the rest of his income goes into War Bonds, savings and insurance. Below are the seven points he followed in setting up his budget. Check and see if you are doing as well!

Here are the 7 Things our Government suggests that every family can do now and keep on doing

1. Buy and hold War Bonds.
2. Pay willingly our own share of the taxes—including increased taxes—that our country needs.
3. Provide for our security by adequate life insurance and savings.
4. Reduce our debts as much as possible.
5. Buy only what we need and make what we have last longer.
6. Follow the ration rules and price ceilings.
7. Cooperate with our Government's wage stabilization program.

Perfect Answer to Your Perfume Needs

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE

EVERY MODERN MISS . . . from the sweet, unaffected girlish type . . . to the most sophisticated smarty . . . has a strictly feminine yearning for the sentimental scent of fine perfume. In its magical wafting . . . it pays high compliment to her feminine heart . . . and weaves the mystical spell of illusion.

For what woman doesn't dream and yearn of the bliss beyond the rainbow . . . beyond the horizon of her immediate outlook? It's only natural to play make-believe a little of the time.

And, so a drop of perfume behind the ear . . . another beneath the chin . . . and a gal goes about all day . . . all evening . . . in a halo of charm that speaks to the heart of all she meets . . . she knows . . . she loves.

There is a hidden power in perfume . . . insinuated meaning in every whiff.

It is so strictly personal . . . yet so revealing . . . an introduction, by proxy, to a woman's temperament and nature. It creates an aura of sweet simplicity when it has the wistful remembrance of lilacs nodding gently under summer skies . . . or an illusion of command when it is fragrance . . . capturing all the beauty and stirring emotions of great music from the heart of a rare old violin.

There are these two scents . . . two gorgeous aromas . . . bottled in crystal crown miniatures . . . and handsomely packaged in a treasure-chest box lined with pink satin.

CROWN DUET SET MODESTLY PRICED

It is a crown duet set . . . modestly priced . . . to meet either mood of the user . . . a crown miniature couplet delightful to the eye that can be carried always . . . tucked conveniently in the smallest handbag.

You would truly be a duchess in feeling if you made elegant use of the one fragrance . . . or a romantic, soul-stirring personality with the other. Packaged together as they are . . . these two little bottles could be the perfect answer to your perfume needs.

Perfume is no longer a luxury, strictly speaking. It has become a necessity to give meaning to your personality and to climax the drama of your appearance.

For the name of this bewitching perfume set, phone the Beauty Dept., LIBerty 4000, except the week-end, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, inclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

TO FOLLOW THE INFALLIBLE WAY to a man's heart and to a ringside seat on the charm spectrum . . . a lovely lady must cater to the strictly feminine yearning for a personality-accented perfume. Maybe it's summer skies . . . or a soul-stirring episode you want to revive in your illusion of cherished memories. Whatever the thought to recapture or invoke . . . an exquisite and distinctive fragrance is the necessary prop. Filmstress Ruth Valmy poses.

FOR YOUR NEW SMOOTH CROWN HAIRDO you must have a cloche hat. This one . . . made of starched lace trimmed with two bunches of white violets and a black veil . . . reveals the front of the hair and gains its width at the sides. The ends of the band . . . which is really all the hat is . . . roll back slightly away from the ears. Note how RKO star Maire Lund's beautiful page boy hairdo sets this hat off to perfection . . . A swellegant headpiece to give the feminine touch to the spring gray suit must.—R. M.

Two Proposals

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I think I'm in love with two men, because I don't know which one to marry. I'll tell you about both of them and perhaps you will advise me.

A is 30 years old, a college graduate, and has gone through officer school, now being a captain in the Army. He is sweet to me and says he loves me more than life itself, and has asked me to marry him. He has given me his fraternity pin to seal our engagement, for you see I promised to marry him.

B is a young man who worked in my father's bank, and I saw him almost every night. I knew him before I met the other one. He also asked me to marry him, and he thinks we're engaged. I feel I don't love either one of these boys but like them very much. Either one would make a splendid husband, although one commands a better salary than the other. I want to keep corresponding with both of them, as they're in the service now. I am 21 years of age. The boys are 24 and 30.
C. S. B.

When a girl imagines she's in love with two men and is undecided which one she should marry, it's usually a case of being in love with love rather than being in love with an individual. Why make an agreement with either of these boys now? Correspond with both of them, and wait until you're so thoroughly swept off your feet that there'll be no question of choice. Perhaps your real choice will be someone you haven't even met as yet.

Garland Charming Touch

By BETTINA BEDWELL

NETTIE ROSENSTEIN, who is a designer with an eye to making you look beautiful, has a new way of giving short evening dresses the air of being Miss Springtime herself. She puts wide, luxuriant garlands of silk flowers around the shoulders of simple black frocks. They are really like floral rainbows, and ought to bring a lot of luck to the girl who wears them.

Miss Dulin has sketched one of these garland dresses. It is made of black crepe and has a deep, dropped-shoulder decollete, and very short draped sleeves. Around this decollette she puts a garland of sweet peas in rainbow colors.

The effect is stunning. The body of the dress is draped to a center panel and the skirt is simple. Long black gloves go with the dress.

Delicious Pepper Dishes Rich in Vitamin Values

By MARTHA LEE

PEPPERS ARE ABUNDANT and more reasonable in price than for some time. One fresh green pepper goes a long way toward adding color and stepping up the flavor of that full salad bowl or cole slaw.

Eating peppers raw is the best way to get the full benefit of the vitamins A and C. One nice thing about eating Vitamin A is that the human body can store any surplus of it for future use. But Vitamin C must be replenished every day to get a fair share.

When purchasing peppers, it's well to remember they should be mature, firm, well shaped, thick fleshed and of good color and appearance.

SALAD SUGGESTIONS

Carrots, peppers and cabbage—three vegetables plentiful in the market now—make a good salad combination. So do pineapple, peppers and cabbage.

Raw stuffed peppers are delicious. Cream or cottage cheese with perhaps some chopped celery and seasonings make a good filling. Chilled, they can then be sliced and served on lettuce or other greens, with some kind of salad dressing.

There is some vitamin loss through cooking, of course, but even cooked peppers usually have a generous supply of vitamin A and some vitamin C. Stuffed peppers are favorites in most households. After the cleaned pepper has been parboiled a few minutes, it is lifted from the boiling salted water and filled with whatever meats or vegetables—or mixture of the two—happen to be available. Bread crumbs provide the "binding" material. Macaroni and cheese makes another good filling, covered with buttered crumbs and heated in the oven until the crumbs are brown.

EGGS 'N' PEPPERS

Get an oiled baking dish good and hot, then cover the bottom of it with parboiled pepper rings about ¼ inch thick. Then drop eggs onto the rings. The hot dish will make the eggs keep their shape. Season them, and if you wish put a tablespoon of cream on top of each egg. Then you may also sprinkle cheese and bread crumbs over the top. Put into the oven and leave until the eggs have set.

STUFFED GREEN PEPPERS

6 large green peppers
¾ lb. chuck beef, ground
¼ tbsp. minced onion
2 tbsp. salad oil; 3 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 tsp. powdered sage
2 tsp. bottled condiment sauce
3 cups boiled white rice
1½ cups canned tomatoes
½ cup soft bread crumbs
2 tbsp. melted butter or margarine

Wash peppers, cut a thin slice from stem end, and remove seeds. Cover with boiling salted water and simmer for 5 minutes. Drain. Meanwhile, cook beef and onion in the salad oil in a skillet for 5 minutes or until meat loses its red color. Add salt, pepper, sage, condiment sauce, rice and tomatoes and combine thoroughly. Stuff peppers with this mixture and top with the bread crumbs which have been combined with the butter. Arrange peppers upright in a greased baking dish and bake in a moderately hot oven of 375 deg. F. for 35 to 40 minutes or until tender and brown on top. Makes 6 servings.

Star Shine

By Sidney Skolsky

HOLLYWOOD, March 10—Snag Werris tells the story about the playboy actor who had just finished a fine dinner at a swanky restaurant and was waiting outside for his car. He stood in the brisk, starry night, feeling very satisfied with himself when a bum came up to him and asked him for some change for something to eat. "I'm sorry to hear that, pal," said the actor, taking a cigar out of his pocket. "Here, have it." "No, thanks," said the bum, "but I don't smoke, I just want some change for something to eat." "Now, now, my good man," said the actor, "you come inside with me and have a drink as my guest." The playboy actor took his ragged friend into the bar and ordered a couple of Scotches. "No, thank you," said the bum, "but I don't drink. All I want is some change for something to eat." The actor swallowed his drink and walked out to where his car was waiting. "I'll tell you what I'll do for you," he said. "I'm gonna put two dollars on a horse that's running tomorrow that will pay 100-1. You'll have $200 and you'll be able to eat for a long time." "But, sir, said the derelict, "I don't like to gamble. Can't I just have the money for something to eat?" "Wait a minute," said the actor. "Hop in the car. I want you to meet my wife." "Why!" asked the bum. "Well," answered the actor, "I just want to show her what happens to a guy who doesn't smoke, drink or gamble."

BETTY REINHARDT relates this incident. A man got on the Hollywood bus in Beverly Hills. It was very crowded and, he asked the bus driver, "Does this bus go to Vine st.?" "Yep," said the bus driver curtly, "step to the back of the bus, please!" The man did as he was ordered, but he kept worrying that maybe the bus driver didn't understand him and maybe he was on the wrong bus. So he inched up to a lady and inquired, "I beg your pardon. Does this bus go to Vine st.?" The lady regarded him suspiciously, believing he was on the make, and said, "I guess so." This only troubled the man more than ever. He made his way to a chap looking out the window and inquired, "Is this the bus for Vine st.?" "Yes," the chap said, ringing for the bus to stop and getting up to get out. The man was in a greater confusion than ever. He fought his way forward and found a man who looked like a seasoned traveler on this bus line. "Please, sir," he asked, "does this bus go to Vine st.?" "Yes," said the seasoned traveler, "it certainly does." "Thank you," said the man, and he made his way to the rear of the bus and found a seat. The man had been sitting for a couple of minutes when a woman tapped him on the shoulder and said, "I'm sorry to bother you, but is this the bus to Vine st.?" "Now look what you've done!" shouted the man. "You've got me worried all over again!"

The FCC Investigation

By George E. Sokolsky

EUGENE GAREY was forced out of the FCC investigation because he had touched the raw spot of New Deal business machinations which some Congressmen are now calling by a much shorter and uglier name. I state categorically that Eugene Garey's resignation from the Congressional committee investigating the FCC was forced by a coercive process unparallelled in this country.

The theory was that Carey would be silenced on the WMCA deal in New York, which involved the sale of a radio station by an owner who did not wish to sell, to an ex-official of the Administration who insisted upon buying through Tommy Corcoran who put on the pressure. A suit concerning this transaction is now pending in the New York Supreme Court. Referring to this matter, Representative Louis E. Miller of St. Louis said:

"The indefinite postponement of the WMCA case is not only most unusual, quite aside from the way and manner in which the postponement was considered and acted upon, but is without a parallel in legislative history.

". . . There is no record of any case where the mere pendency of a civil action has been made the pretext for stopping hearings once commenced on a matter between private persons . . . and if there could possibly be any merit to the contention that continued hearings by the committee could prejudice either party to the Flamm-Noble suit, then Flamm has already been injured by the disclosures which he has been compelled to make and the postponement obviously has benefited Noble and possibly injured Flamm. But in the final analysis the full facts of this deal have been denied the Congress. It must be remembered that the committee's investigation of WMCA had been completed before Flamm filed his suit against Noble (regarding the WMCA sale.)"

★ ★ ★

SILENCING GAREY does not end the case. It is too smelly to elude the keen nostrils both of those unselfishly interested in clean government and those selfishly interested in New Deal foibles. Both will be after the foul odor as long as it is unventilated. The greater the effort to hide the facts, the stronger the curiosity concerning them will be.

Tommy Corcoran appears throughout this particular investigation. For instance, as recently as June, 1943, one Charles S. Guthrie was subpoenaed by the committee to produce his income tax returns. Let Rep. Miller continue the story:

". . . When Mr. Guthrie appeared at those hearings he was accompanied by his counsel, Mr. Corcoran, who, with the committee's permission, was allowed to make statements supporting Guthrie's opposition against the furnishing of his records and income tax returns. Mr. Corcoran is the same gentleman who, [illegible] for the postponement of hearings in the WMCA matter would have been asked publicly to give additional evidence concerning the sale and transfer of WMCA. At the time of the postponement, Mr. Corcoran was under subpoena for that purpose. At the executive sessions mentioned, Mr. Corcoran's support of Mr. Guthrie's claim of immunity from furnishing the committee with his Guthrie's income tax returns was based solely on the ground that they would disclose a partnership in the practice of law to have existed between Corcoran and Guthrie.

"Testimony given a few years ago by Mr. Corcoran before the Truman committee of the Senate reflects that he had received large sums in attorney fees within a short space of time after he left the RFC—always in the guise and in the capacity of 'associate attorney,' and not by direct representation of persons and concerns before the government departments and agencies. In other words, he appears always to have recommended other counsel, as he did in this case, and then served clients as an associate rather than to accept direct representation, as he told the Truman committee."

★ ★ ★

IT IS ASTONISHING that on the eve of a presidential campaign an attempt would be made to silence this investigation. If there has been no graft, corruption, collusion, extortion, this is the time to bring out the facts, whatever they may be. Otherwise, the WMCA case may become the Teapot Dome of the 1944 campaign. It is impossible to whitewash this business; only the truth can make it clean.

Nazis Send Swap Soldiers to Front

MOSCOW, March 10 (AP)—German soldiers taken prisoner by the British and then exchanged for British troops captured by the Nazis have been remobilized and sent to the Russian front in violation of international law, the newspaper Pravda charged today.

Pravda printed a signed statement obtained from Corp. Karl Wilde, 1st Battalion, 237th Regiment, 83rd Division, who said he figured in an exchange of "healthy prisoners" between Britain and Germany and was then sent to the Russian front.

Wilde said he was captured in the summer of 1942 near El Alamein.

'The Purple Heart' Bares Full Jap Actrocities Facts

By PEGGY DOYLE

In the face of Japan's newly-launched, full-scale atrocity campaign against the United States, "The Purple Heart," 20th Century-Fox's inside-Japan release now showing on the Paramount and Fenway screens, couldn't have been better timed.

From clues supplied by returned exchange-prisoners, Producer Darryl Zanuck, Director Lewis Milestone and a skilled writing crew have reconstructed the story of the possible fate of the American fliers captured after the Doolittle bombing of Tokyo.

It is a mosaic of such courage, cruelties and torment as to rouse even those yammering 1944 pacifists from their hasheesh dreams of negotiated peace. Its ruthless reportage goes beyond the newsreels' most revolting recordings.

J. B. Powell, editor of the North China Review, who lost both feet through Jap torture before his release, told of hearing the American fliers' cries under torture in his near-by cell. New York Times correspondent Otto Tolischus, tried with the four fliers who lived to testify in the mock trial, believes they died without revealing that they took off from the aircraft carrier Hornet.

The action principally centers in the Tokyo courtroom and there are flashbacks showing the parachute landing and capture of the fliers in China by a Chinese quisling and incidents in their immediate, contented prewar pasts.

In violent contrast are their horror-haunted days and nights in the Jap prison cell awaiting trial. Summoned for further questioning, one of the men is mindless when he returns. Another's vocal cords are destroyed when he refuses to divulge vital information. A third, whose postwar career was to be a concert pianist, had his hands broken. A fourth's hands are cut off.

Virile, sincere performances, an eloquent script and matchless direction make "The Purple Heart" one of the war's greatest human documents.

Dana Andrews, as the captain of the downed B-25; Sam Levene, the flier who quotes the entire prisoner-of-war clause from the Geneva Treaty from memory; Farley Granger, Richard Conte, John Craven, Donald Barry and Kevin O'Shea, are enormously effective as the doomed American fliers.

Ellington Still Tops

By DON WARD

The famous Duke Ellington and his band are tipping 'em over at the RKO-Boston, where the new stage show, just unwrapped, is disclosed for the delight of the customers.

It was near frenzy at the opener yesterday, particularly when the Duke, at the piano, gave out with a medley of his own exciting tunes, among them "Sophisticated Lady," "Mood Indigo" and "Sentimental Lady."

Even at the outset they went wild when the band rode in with "Blue Sky." And the enthusiasm stretched out over "Don't Get Around Much Any More," with Johnny Hodges on the tenor sax; Wini Johnson singing "When the Nylons Bloom Again" and "People Will Say"; Betty Roche mumbling the lament, "Shoo-Shoo, Baby."

And because this is what is called a "unit show"—all bound around the band — the comedy turns tickled 'em just as much. Comedian Ray Nance took the house with "Slip of a Lip May Sink a Ship."

The K-Boston's film is "Three Russian Girls," with Anna Sten and Kent Smith. It is based on the siege of Leningrad.

Yessir, quite a show at the K-B.

'LADY IN THE DARK' GRAND FILM

33

Too bad "stupendous" and "colossal" are such tired words. Hollywood should have saved them for "Lady in the Dark." Paramount's reportedly $3,000,000 film version of Moss Hart's stage hit. It's now at the Met.

Instead of the scheduled month or so, "Lady" was 22 weeks in the making. Those ectoplasmic clouds in the Circus Dream took studio engineer Louis Vance 120 d.-- to build. The 30-foot wedding cake was another engineering problem . . . the icing kept melting off from the heat of 250 arc-lamps and the sugar was finally abandoned for concrete. And very mouth-watering it appears, too.

Mouth-watering, in fact, is the entire production from the feminine viewpoint. From the lush Chaucerian wedding-party to Ginger "Lady in the Dark" Rogers' spangle-lined mink skirt and bolero, the production wrecks all previous standards of all-out Hollywood opulence.

Miss Rogers, in the leading role of this drama with music, impersonates the editor of a smart fashion magazine into whose offices slither America's most expensively garbed career-women. Perversely, immured in this atmosphere of feminine allure, Miss Rogers discovers she has steeled her tailor-made heart against such distaff temptations and is facing a breakdown.

A psychiatrist, exploring her sub-conscious, traces her problem to its beautiful child source and starts Ginger on the road to recapturing her sidetracked personality. These necessitate some super-dooper dream sequences that will give you those aforementioned spangles, gowns and jewels.

Ray Milland, who gets Ginger's goat before her heart, is absolutely swell as the brash advertising man. Mischa Auer's lavender fashion photographer, Mary Phillips' brusque dry business associate; Jon Hall's "handsome hunk of man" screen star and Phyllis Brooks' dimwit model are also vividly drawn characterizations.

HOW'S IT FEEL TO BE MRS. BYRON?
REMEMBER, MY LAD, THIS IS ONLY PRETENDING
DIANA, MARRIED--
FUNNY, BYRON SOMETIMES I HAVE A FEELING THAT HE'S NEARBY
GEE, YOU SURE CARRY A TORCH FOR THAT GUY!
THEY'RE IN TROUBLE--SOMEBODY'S AFTER THEM--BUT THEY DON'T SEEM TO KNOW IT! I'D BETTER STICK WITH THEM FOR A WHILE--

TIM TYLER

THE OVERTURE BEGINS, THE CURTAIN RISES AND THE FIRST PERFORMANCE OF "COAST PATROL CAVALCADE" GETS UNDER WAY...
SEE THAT AUDIENCE LAUGH AND APPLAUD, UNAWARE OF THEIR DANGER
TOO LATE TO SAVE THEM NOW! SCENE 23 IS ABOUT TO START! I WONDER WHO'S PLAYING THE PART?
TIM!--LOOK! IT'S--IT'S SPUD.!!

MANDRAKE

NO WAY OUT! WHAT A FIENDISH TRAP! IT'S THE WORK OF THE DOME!
WHAT'S THIS?
WILLOWS--?
NARDA'S SHADE OF LIPSTICK! SHE LEFT THAT MESSAGE. THEY'VE TAKEN HER TO THE WILLOWS--WHEREVER THAT IS! HOW DO WE GET OUT OF HERE!

SECRET AGENT

LEAVING BILL UNCONSCIOUS, ALEX JUMPS INTO THE WAITING CAB...
STEP ON IT, DRIVER! ONE FALSE MOVE AND YOU'LL GET THE SAME AS THAT COPPER!
OKAY... I DON'T WANT TO DIE YOUNG!
THEN GET US OUT ON ROUTE 2 AND STEP ON IT!
YES, SIR!
BROTHER, IF YOU ONLY KNEW WHERE I'M TAKING YOU!

Navy Calls For Dentists

The Navy has an urgent need for more dentists, Lieut.-Comdr. L. J. Obrey announced today, pointing out that only 5 per cent of dentists in New England have become naval dental officers.

"All qualified dentists are urged to make application at once, since they cannot and should not be deferred by selective service unless they occupy essential positions," Comdr. Obrey said.

He requested dentists up to the age of 44, and exceptionally well-qualified men up to 49, to file applications at the office of Naval Officer Procurement, 150 Causeway st., Boston.

YOUR DIRECT LINE to bus seat reservations

You only have to pick up the phone to make sure of your bus seat on your next trip—the Greyhound telephone clerk will be glad to make a reservation for you. By making such arrangements in advance you make it possible for Greyhound to put its buses to full use in these days when a vacant seat means wasted wartime transportation — and you assure yourself a more comfortable trip. You'll also be able to select the less crowded days and the best departure times.

Judges Map Plans In Oratory Contest

Contestants in the John Paul Jones nation-wide oratorical contest sponsored by the Hearst newspapers will be scored in the eliminations on accuracy, effectiveness, personality and poise.

At the Faneuil Hall session on March 31 there will be three qualified judges seated in different locations in the auditorium, and each will render his final decision without consultation with other judges or any other person.

The contestant receiving the low score total will be declared the winner. For example, if one contestant receives two first and a second on the judges' scorecards, his total low score points will be four. If the second contestant receives two firsts and a third, his total low score will be five. Even though the second contestant receives two firsts, his total low score of five will place him second.

In the event two contestants receive the same low score total, the total percentage points given by the judges to each contestant shall be added, and the score determined on the basis of the total high percentage, which will be on a basis of 100 per cent by each judge.

In the event of a tie on the percentage basis as well as the low score basis, the judges will then meet, compare their scores and discuss all features of the contest in order to arrive at a final choice.

Studying the career of John Paul Jones, historians are struck by his emphasis on preparedness at all times. In a message to Robert Morris, U. S. Minister of Marine in 1782, Jones wrote:

"In time of peace it is necessary to prepare to be always prepared for war by sea."

When Jones sent that urgent advice the Revolution was won and Congress lost interest in matters of national defense. In the light of present events, the soundness of Jones' judgment is even more apparent than it was then.

2 BAY STATE FLIERS GET ACE RANKING

As America paid tribute today to 65 fighter aces for their exploits in shooting down a total of 611 German planes since operations began in the European war theater, Massachusetts took pride in two hero airmen.

Lieut. Fred J. Christensen, Jr.

High on the list of aces is Capt. Leroy A. Schreiber of Court st., Plymouth, credited with 12 "Jerries." He became an ace by blasting his fifth enemy plane from the sky on New Year's Day.

An Associated Press dispatch from London states that Lieut. Fred J. Christensen, Jr., of Wilmot st., Watertown, officially has eight Nazi planes to his credit.

Bruins' Point Record Believed Due to Fade

By BILL GRIMES

As the National Hockey League race approaches its final week, Les Canadiens are only two points shy of the all-time record of 77, which mark was set up by the Bruins, the Detroit Red Wings are fairly well established as the runners up, the Toronto Maple Leafs are deadlocked with the Chicago Blackhawks for the No. 3 slot and the Rossmen are one point from elimination from the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

With the Canucks, Hawks, Red Wings and Maple Leafs still to play the Bruins are as good as out of the playoffs at this writing. Of course, they have an alibi, which will stand the acid test, for their failure to make the grade for the first time in 10 years, the loss of Bill Cowley for 14 games.

Art Ross

Bill Cowley was hospitalized from Jan. 8 to Feb. 13, when he appeared against Detroit and then sat out the next three games with a bad knee. During the absence of Cowley, the Rossmen lost no less than 10 games, dropping from second to fifth place.

★ ★ ★

Something Screwy

There's something screwy about the Bruins being in fifth place. They are the second highest scoring club in the league. They have scored an even 200 goals, which topped the old record, which Canadiens broke last week by two tallies. And, they are only two goals off the Canucks, who have won 34 games against their 17.

The Bruins lost exactly 50 per cent of the chance of getting into the money series when the Maple Leafs shut out Rangers, 8 to 0, last night in New York. As it stands now, if the Leafs even tie the Rangers tomorrow night in Toronto, the Bruins are dead ducks.

Paul Bibeault turned in his fourth shut out since joining the Maple Leafs on Christmas night, when he was beaten by Rangers. Mons. Bibeault has been humiliated on two occasions at home by the Blue Shirts but he has allowed only three goals in New York in as many goals. Oom Paul also held the Hawks scoreless in Chicago and blanked Canadiens in the Maple Leaf Gardens.

As we see it, Les Canadiens will take on the Blackhawks and the Red Wings will tangle with the Maple Leafs in the first rounds of the coming Stanley Cup series.

Before a gathering of 13,925 last night at the Chicago Stadium the Canucks and the Hawks staged a pre-view of the play offs. It was a knock down and drag out affair all the way and the verdict went to the 1943-44 N. H. L. champions, 3 to 2.

★ ★ ★

MATCH PENALTY

Referee Norm Lamport handed out a match misconduct penalty to Murph Chamberlain, a major to Mike McMahon, a 10 minute misconduct penalty to Maurice Richard and 12 minor penalties.

With the final standings about ready to be entered in the archives, the fans are watching the mad scramble for high scoring honors.

Herbie Cain is still out in front with 34 goals, 37 assists for 71 points. But, he was very lucky last night, for those over generous Chicago official scorers didn't have a chance to slip any points to Doug Bentley, Bill Mosienko or Clint Smith, who are pressing him for the lead.

However, Bentley is still in second place with 68 points, with Lorne Carr, Toronto, and Carl Liscombe, Red Wings, close on his heels with 66. Then comes Mosienko and Smith with 65, followed by Elmer Lach, Canadiens, 64, and our own Bill Cowley, who has played in only 32 games, with 63, and Art "Stoney" Jackson with 60.

★ ★ ★

Trio of Tilts

We do not believe they are doing any "business" with the official scoring sheets in Detroit, so the fact that the Red Wings have three more home games may or may not help Carl Liscombe. However, Elmer Lach may be shot up a few pegs during the trio of tilts the Canucks play in Montreal. Fortunately for Herbie Cain, the Hawks have only two home games to play which, however, is enough to make it mandatory for the Bruin to break the old records if he is going to retain first place.

Judging from his "Hat Trick" last night, Lorne Carr, Toronto, is hot as a pistol and will bear watching during the three games the Maple Leafs will play.

And, this is as good as any time to pick the Canucks to lift the Stanley Cup from the Red Wings. And, it wouldn't surprise us if they did it in straight games, which, of course, wouldn't make a favorable impression with the owners Club de Hockey Les Canadiens, Major Frederic McLaughlin of the Blackhawks or James N. Norris, owner of the Detroit Red Wings and also the Chicago Stadium, home of the Hawks.

Rickey Gives Up Hope on Durocher

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP)—Branch Rickey has abandoned all hopes of having Manager Leo Durocher play shortstop for the Brooklyn Dodgers this season.

When asked about the "acorns" in Leo's elbow, the Brooklyn president shook his head and said, "When I learned that the necessary operation would not permit him to play until July, I abandoned the notion."

Celmer, Deblasi Joins Utica Braves

ALBANY, N. Y., March 10 (AP)—The Utica Braves of the Class A Eastern League announced today the signing of Infielder Fred Celmer of Reading, Pa., and Catcher Anthony Deblasi of Brooklyn.

Both were assigned by the Philadelphia club of the National League, of which Utica is a farm club.

Bartolo Given Edge In Title Go Tonight

A large number of important Hub fistic experts are on record today as proclaiming that Sal Bartolo of East Boston will win the National Boxing Ass'n championship when he collides with the title holder Phil Terranova of New York in the Garden tonight.

Both contestants were found in the pink of condition in the medical examination at the Boxing Commission offices and although the weighing in will be at noon today it was indicated that both will be under the stipulated 126 pounds when they step on the scales.

Bartolo has impressed skeptics here by his fine showing in gymnasium workouts and because of his cleverness and apparent fine condition he has been given the edge by the betting fraternity and early today odds on him were quoted at 8 to 5.

There are still many however who are taking the cagy attitude in picking the winner of this 15 round title match. They claim that the rugged, harder hitting Terranova will be no pushover. He holds the title and will work hard to retain the crown. Terranova it is claimed is slow to warm up but as a fight progresses he has shown the faculty of getting stronger, always crowding his opponent and it is believed that his ring tactics will prove too much of a handicap for the lighter hitting Bartolo to overcome.

Bartolo's friends argue that he can take a punch and that his superior boxing skill and snappy left jab both of which have elevated him to the pinnacle of Number 1 contender will offset anything that the title holder can throw at him. They maintain that he was out of condition in the Braves Field setto with Willie Pep and that it was this lack of condition which was responsible for his sorry showing against the classy champion.

However, all agree that if Bartolo loses tonight he will have no alibi as it is evident as the hour to enter the ring approaches that he was never in better physical condition.

In an all-featherweight preliminary card, Whistling Willie Roach, Wilmington, Del., Negro, will meet Larry Bolvin, Providence boy, who was mentioned as an opponent for Terranova before Bartolo stepped into the picture, in an eight-round semi-final. Three sixes list Steve Kronis of the South End with Archie Goodbee of Hartford; Joe Hebert of Lowell against Eddie DeAngelis of Revere, and Sammy Garcia of Quincy with Jack Cunningham of New York.

Sawicki, Galiano Bout

Leo Sawicki of Worcester will be out to gain his 11th win in 12 starts when he meets Pete Galiano, Baltimore, in the feature bout of 10 rounds at Mechanics Hall, Worcester, tonight.

Les Canadiens Near Record

By the Associated Press

Montreal's Canadiens today stand only two points away from the modern National Hockey League record for most team points scored in a season, a mark of 77 hung up by the Boston Bruins in the 1929-30 campaign.

In putting that standard into the books, the Bruins won 38 games, lost five and tied one while playing only 44 games, as contrasted to the present 50-game schedule.

The Canadiens upped their total to 75 last night by turning back Chicago, 3-2, in a scrappy battle before 13,925 fans. It was a rough affair, with 15 penalties called, 10 of which were against Montreal, one 10-minute misconduct and a match misconduct.

Murph Chamberlain drew the match penalty when he charged the referee in the second period and Maurice Richard was banned for 10 minutes.

Doug Bentley of the Hawks received a broken nose during a first period altercation with Glen Harmon and Mike McMahon, but returned to the game in the second session.

Toronto moved into a third-place tie with Chicago by shutting out the hapless New Yorkers, 8-0. It was the fourth scoreless game for Goalie Paul Bibeault, who is the league's shutout leader. The Rangers now have been blanked four times, twice by Bibeault and once each by Jimmy Franks and Connie Dion of Detroit.

SOMERVILLE, BRAINTREE WIN TO FINALS

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Of course, the 19th annual Tech Tourney finals will be stealing the schoolboy sports spotlight tomorrow with a capacity crowd expected to storm the Garden tomorrow night but the annual Reggie track championships, at the Armory in the afternoon, will be in for their share of headlines.

It'll be the first time in the history of the Tech carnival that two undefeated teams will be battling it out for top honors when Somerville and Waltham collide for the Class A crown, sharing the twin bill with Braintree and Belmont in the B division.

Somerville's entry into the finals was no more than expected. Coach Vin Cronin's boys had beaten Medford twice previously this season so that its semi-final test against the Mustangs proved only a tune-up for the championship clash. Medford's man-to-man defense proved troublesome for a half but then the sharp-shooting of Somerville's Tony Lavelli sent the Greater Boston titlists far to the front.

Lavelli was dropping them in from all angles. It seemed that he just couldn't miss once he was within striking distance of the basket.

Waltham's triumph was well deserved as the squad of Coach Art Quinn really had plenty on the ball in taking New Bedford into camp. The Watch City five was pushed a lot further than in whipping Brockton but they certainly showed their championship caliber in coming back in the overtime period to win out.

Roy Arbuthnot was the leading cog in the Waltham offensive and his duel for top scoring honors with Lavelli will be sure to provide an interesting sidelight in settling the title.

In Class B, Braintree and Belmont with both forced to come from behind to gain their places in the Saturday night finals. But of the two, Braintree must enter the tilt a slight favorite on the fine play of Hugh Opie and Bob Lang.

Once again, on the track boards, English High School will be favored to romp to the Reggie championships in spite of the fact that Coach Bill Ohrenberger will be without the services of his ace 500-yarder and crack relay runner, Jackie Farrell. The loss of Farrell because of a sore knee will leave English far ahead of the field with 29 qualifiers.

All tests in all classes will be finals with the exception of the dashes and hurdles.

It was highly possible that two records will pass by the boards. In the 50-yard AB hurdles, Court Ellis, Boston English, and Rudy Fobert, East Boston, after flirting with the mark all season, may set up a new mark while in the AB 440 Carl Parsons, Public Latin, will be attempting to lower the standard. Parsons has been hitting :57 seconds in trials. English High, with 49 7-10 points to its credit from the field events, medley and two-lap relays, will be going into the games with a commanding margin.

Lehigh Answers Green Distress Call

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 10 (AP)—Dartmouth athletes will wear red, white and blue in the intercollegiate wrestling championships open at Lehigh University tonight.

"We are unable to buy, beg or borrow wrestling tights," wired William McCarter, Dartmouth's director of athletics. "Since regulations demand them, shall we be barred from competing?"

Tournament Manager E. F. Carraway replied no—and borrowed red trunks from Muhlenberg, white from Lehigh and blue from Bethlehem High School.

Rip Sewell Improves Blooper

PITTSBURGH, March 10 (AP)—Rip Sewell says the "blooper ball" will be in style again this year, as far as he's concerned.

"And," says the Pittsburgh Pirates' star whose balloon ball won 21 games and lost nine last year, "its going to be a bit higher this season—maybe about an inch. I hope to do as well this year, if not better."

The pitcher who baffled National League batsmen last year arrived in town last night from his winter home in Plant City, Fla. He is the first Pirate to report for the spring training trip which begins next Tuesday when the Buccos entrain for Munice, Ind.

"I think," he announced, "that the Pirates have a fine chance to win the pennant this year."

For his hurling record, the 35-year-old right-hander will be honored Sunday night with the annual award of the Dapper Dans, Pittsburgh sportsmen's organization, as the "athlete who did most for Pittsburgh in 1943."

But for a friendly railroad passenger agent, who called at the last minute to say he finally had a reservation for him, Rip said he would have made the trip aboard one of the strawberry trucks which make regular runs from Plant City to Pittsburgh.

English Athlete in Big Ten Meet

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—A former Cambridge (England) University track star will make his sports debut in the Western Conference tomorrow when he competes in the annual Big Ten indoor track meet.

He is Rex H. Whitworth, one of the five University of Iowa athletes entered, and a winner of the Rockefeller Foundation Scholarship in Medicine. He will compete in four events, high and low hurdles, broad jump and high jump.

Herman, Head Loss Blow to Dodgers

With Infielder Billy Herman sailing away to join the Navy and Pitcher Ed Head marching off in a soldier suit, the Brooklyn Dodgers' National League pennant aspirations have suffered a severe relapse almost on the eve of their first spring training drills, according to the Associated Press.

Deacon Branch Rickey broke the news to the Gowanus faithful yesterday afternoon at his weekly press session and added that Pitcher Bill Lohrman has informed him that he will take his Army physical next Monday.

Herman, the cornerstone of the infield, told Rickey in a telephone conversation that he had been accepted for service and soon would be in the Navy, and Head wrote from Shreveport, La., that he had been examined and accepted by the Army.

The Brooks now have 18 experienced men definitely set to open camp at Bear Mountain, N. Y., next Wednesday, and 15 others in the "doubtful" class.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Other news from the baseball front included:

BOSTON—Bob Quinn has discovered that he "gave" Columbus $7500 for outfielder Chet Wieczorek. He has learned the player, whom he drafted from the American Ass'n club, is in the Army.

PHILADELPHIA—With signing of outfielder Buster Adams, the Blue Jays report 16 in the fold. Herb Pennock announced signing of George Gasdaskas, 18-year-old Bethlehem, Pa., High School boy, to be sent to the Bradford, Pa., farm in the Pony League.

CHICAGO—First baseman Phil Cavaretta informed club officials that he has been called up for Army physical today at Milwaukee. If Cavaretta is accepted, the Cubs will have to depend on either Heinz Becker or the veteran Jimmie Foxx.

BROOKLYN—In addition to the news on Herman, Head and Lohrman, Rickey announced that Lloyd Waner had been reinstated and that he had given permission to Catcher Mickey Owen to stay at his Springfield, Mo., farm during the early days of the training season.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS—Outfielder Frank Demaree, recently released by the Cardinals. Signed by the Browns.

CHICAGO—Outfielder Thurman Tucker announced he had passed his physical examination and Pitcher Al Epperly, acquired in the baseball draft, said he would either stay on his farm or be in the armed service. Pitchers John Harvey and Charles Graumann and Outfielder-Pitcher Ed Carnett signed contracts.

DETROIT—Pitchers Hal Newhouser and Zeb Eaton took part in early training workout at Evansville, Ind., in freezing weather.

PHILADELPHIA—Athletics reported 26 signed and only two holdouts, Outfielder Bill Burgo and Pitcher Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin. Connie Mack said Bobo Newsom not considered holdout as he was just seeing if he could get in shape to pitch.

Baksi 8 to 5 Over Savold

NEW YORK, March 10 (INS)—Heavyweight Joe Baksi, newly-risen star from Kulpmont, Pa., is an 8 to 5 favorite to whip Lee Savold of Paterson, N. J., in their 10-round bout tonight at Madison Square Garden.

Although the betting odds may drift down to even money, Baksi is given an excellent chance of scoring the second important victory of his career at the expense of Savold. Baksi first propelled himself into public notice with an unexpected victory over high-ranking Tami Maurillo of New York, on Feb. 25.
